UNEXPECTED

Mysterious Package Contains Marijuana

It was addressed to Miss Adrienne Ardito, 18, of 168 Meadowcroft Drive, but she told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Ardito, she was not expecting a package. Broken open, the crate contained a grassy substance in two paper packages.

Ardito asked Police Chief Raymond Buchignani to come to the home Sunday to inspect the contents.

Buchignani identified the substance today as marijuana — more than two pounds of it and worth up to $175 on the current market in Marin, according to state narcotics agents.

Miss Ardito told police the only persons she knew in Mexico were three youths, two of them Sleepy Hollow brothers.

The U. S. marshal in San Diego told the Independent-Journal today by telephone that the brothers, Michael B., 20, and Rufus B. Aylwin, 18, of 33 Van Ripper Court, are being held in that city on charges of smuggling heroine and marijuana across the Mexican border.

Auto Check Brings Haul Of Narcotics

Quick thinking by two Novato policemen early this morning, turned what appeared to be a routine traffic stop into a $200 narcotics haul and the arrest of four Marin residents.

The discovery occurred at 1 a.m. on Highway 101 near Grant Avenue, when Sgt. William Cann recognized a 16-year-old Mill Valley girl in the car with three hippies. "She just didn't fit in," he said.

Cann said he recognized the driver, Bruce A. Tucker, 20, of Novato, as wanted for violation of probation after he produced a New Jersey driver's license.

While Schanake watched the four, Cann said he checked the trunk and found a large assortment of narcotics paraphernalia and two instruction manuals. "You name it, it was in there," Cann said.

Not too carefully concealed, Cann said he found packages of what appeared to be nethedrine, LSD and several amphetamine tablets, plus several syringes, spoons, pipes, a scale and a manual titled, "Synthesis of Amides of Lysergic Acid," by William L. Garbrecht, giving the chemical breakdown for producing LSD.

Cann said he found a similar booklet giving a three-page description of methedrine-producing compounds and names of suppliers.

The sergeant estimated the total value of the drugs and equipment at more than $200.

Tucker and his two hippie passengers, Eric S. Tainter, 19, and Deborah H. Russell, 18, both

Russ Expel Two Diplomats In Answer To U.S. Action

MOSCOW (UPI)—Two American diplomats were ordered out of the Soviet Union today, apparently in retaliation for a U.S. State Department order that barred two Soviet diplomats from reentering the United States.

Richard Dabney Chapman, 38, first secretary of the American Embassy in Moscow, was ordered out of the country for "activities incompatible with diplomatic status," the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

It said U.S. agricultural attache Brice Meeker, who was out of the country on vacation, would not be permitted to reenter, for the same reason.

The expulsion order followed an American warning to the Russians that two Soviet diplomats who recently left the United States would not be permitted to return because of alleged espionage activities in the United States.

It also came on the heels of an American protest yesterday over the Kremlin's decision to bar two U.S. Coast Guard icebreakers from crossing the Vilkitski Strait in the Arctic Ocean. The U.S. State Department said the two icebreakers were on a scientific mission to circumnavigate the ocean.

But the move was seen in Moscow as a direct retaliation for the U.S. decision to deny reenter to two Soviet diplomats.

They were Nikolai F. Popov, former first secretary at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, and Anatoly T. Kireyev, counselor at the Soviet mission in New York.

Johnson Denies Serious Rift In North Vietnam Bombing

Johnson Sees No Deep Policy Split

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson denied today there is any serious rift between American military and civilian leaders over bombing of North Vietnam.

Johnson said he feels honest differences of opinion have been "blown out of all proportions."

In the wake of a Senate report sharply critical of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara over bombing restrictions, the chief executive said that as far as he was concerned, there is "no deep division" whatever between McNamara, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the White House.

The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, after three weeks of hearings on the air war policy, charged yesterday that restrictions placed on American pilots in their forays over North Vietnam went against recommendations of military leaders.

At an impromptu news conference, Johnson said that of about 350 potential or significant bombing targets in North Vietnam, there had been agreement among all military and civilian officials on striking 300.

NO DECISION

He said that of 50 remaining "significant targets," no decision had been made and the final say would be his.

The President pointed out that in 36 years in Washington, he has been intimately associated with the military and asserted: "I have never known a period when there was more harmony, more general agreement or a more cooperative attitude —or more able men in control."

McNamara told the Senate subcommittee a week ago today that most significant targets had been hit and outlined his opposition to the calls by some in Congress and the military for escalated bombing.

RIDICULOUS REPORT

A reporter asked Johnson today if McNamara had threatened to resign if the bombing was stepped up. The President said that was "absolutely" untrue, and added: "That is the most ridiculous report I have seen since I became President."

Other high spots of the news conference:

Johnson said he has no present intention of reducing his request for a 10 per cent tax surcharge which he wants passed at this session of Congress.

The President said the Administration regrets very much the fact that some steel companies —the latest was Bethlehem today —felt it was necessary to raise the price for steel bars.

He said the Administration will do everything possible to avoid a major strike in the automobile industry.

McCarthy Victory At Caucus

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

State Senate Republicans last night beat down a move by newer GOP senators to oust leaders of the upper house at next week's five-day session of the legislature.

Two senators also tried to oust Senate Republican Leader John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, but their attempt never got to a vote, McCarthy told the Independent-Journal. The two senators, John L. Harmer of Glendale and Howard Way of Exeter, "had their heads crushed," said McCarthy.

ANOTHER GAME

"January is another ball game now," said McCarthy in a revision of his previous prediction that Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno will be re-elected in January.

McCarthy also confirmed that he will be a candidate for president pro tem, and said other candidates would be Donald J. Grunsky of Watsonville, Richard J. Dolwig of San Mateo and Way.

Burns, a Democrat and 26-year veteran of the Senate, has been president pro tem for 10 years. McCarthy has been in the Senate 17 years.

BRADLEY ABSENT

Nineteen senators attended the four-and-a-half-hour meeting at the International Hotel near Los Angeles International Airport. Sole absentee Republican was Sen. Clark L. Bradley of San Jose, who is honeymooning in Hawaii and will not return for next week's session.

The 19 included Sen. Milton Marks of San Francisco, who technically will not be a senator until sworn in Monday. It was his election last month that put the upper house into a 20-20 party tie, giving promise to some Republicans of replacing Burns with a man of their own party.

McCarthy disqualified himself as chairman of the meeting because he would be a candidate for Burns' job. Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino of Ventura was elected temporary caucus chairman.

"We will have a Republican candidate the next time there is a leadership election," promised Lagomarsino.

NO HELP

Alone In A Crowd As Thief Hits

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Miss Ann Marie Davenport, 20, a red-haired practical nurse, was walking home from St. Francis Xavier Cabrini Hospital when it happened.

She was only a block from her home. Half a dozen people were close by and countless of motorists were passing, despite the midnight hour.

Then there was this young, muscular-looking youth, about 20, she explained yesterday.

"He was walking unusually close to the side of the building— the side my purse was on. He walked past me. Then I heard foodsteps behind me.

"He knocked me over the curb and I fell in the street with my purse underneath me.

"I screamed. The people all turned around. But they just stood there looking.

"He screamed: 'Gimme the purse' You better gimme the purse!'

"He kicked me in the side and then in the stomach, trying to wrest the purse away from me. I kept yelling I didn't have any money, hoping he would give up.

"Even after he ran away, the people just stood there and

Human Rights Committee Lists Goals

Minimum Force, Use Of Citations Among Proposals

By WAT TAKESHITA

A committee of the Marin Human Rights Commission last night unanimously recommended that the Marin County sheriff set up written policies for deputies to follow in making arrests and using firearms.

Mrs. Bella Aaron, chairman of the Police Community Relations Committee, announced that the recommendations will be submitted to the Human Rights Commission and forwarded to the sheriff.

AUDIENCE

An audience of about 50, mostly residents of Marin City, attended the committee meeting in Saint Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Marin City. Next meeting of the Police Community Relations Committee is set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the church.

Among policies requested of the sheriff were these:

1. Deputies should use only minimum amount of force necessary to detain and arrest. They should "avoid any abusive language or racial epithets."

2. Deputies should not use firearms except when their lives or the life of someone else is in immediate danger. Every time an officer fires a weapon he should make a report, accounting for the bullets used. Shots should not be fired to prevent escape in case of misdemeanors. Deputies should not shoot a fleeing person suspected of auto theft.

3. Citations should be allowed in place of arrest in cases involving misdemeanors.

COOPERATION

Mrs. Aaron pointed out that citizens also have the responsibility of cooperating when citations are issued. "If you don't sign the citation, the officer does have the right under the law to arrest you," she stressed. "Signing a citation is only a promise to appear in court."

Several members of the audience wanted to know "what guarantee we have" that the recommendations will be

Cong Kidnaps 142 Civilians As Vote Nears

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — The Viet Cong today kidnaped 142 civilians, killed and wounded scores more in raids in Saigon and the provinces and mortared the main barracks of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division in another murderous attempt to upset South Vietnam's presidential election.

U.S. bombers flying 140 missions against North Vietnam yesterday struck three miles from the major port city of Haiphong, hitting a surface-to-air missile site. But three U.S. Navy jets were shot down near Haiphong, raising to 669 the American planes lost over the country. The three pilots were listed as missing.

1,000 KILLED

Government spokesmen reported more than 1,000 South Vietnamese killed, wounded or kidnaped this week. They called it the greatest guerrilla reign of terror in the Vietnam war.

U.S. intelligence reports said captured Communist documents show the guerrillas plan to continue their orgy of violence in hopes of frightening away voters from Sunday's balloting for president, vice president and a 60-member senate. They reported the Communists were sending out killer platoons from special sabotage schools.

Meanwhile South Vietnam's presidential candidates held their final joint campaign rally here today, but it appeared to generate only scant public interest with the voting just two days away.

DINNER HOUR

It was estimated the crowd reached 3,000 persons at its peak. The numbers were hard to judge because of the normal dinner hour traffic moving around the main traffic circle at the site in front of the U.S. Joint Public Affairs Office in downtown Saigon.

The turnout seemed small for the capital city, with a population of about 2.5 million.

School Fund Session Set

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan will call a special session of the legislature to correct a technical error in a new law giving local school districts $145 million in additional state aid, the governor's office said today.

The governor plans to sign the proclamation tomorrow setting the session for next week, an aide to Reagan said. It will be held concurrently with the five-day long veto session opening Monday.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty said the attorney general ruled the mistake should be corrected by the legislature rather than through administrative procedure as was first thought possible.

The technical error in the school bill could have cost some school districts some of the additional money the legislature intended to give them this year. The total new school aid for 1967-68 is $145 million.

Regents Vote Charge, Don't Call It Tuition

LOS ANGELES (AP) — University of California regents have voted to impose a new student charge on the nine UC campuses, but it's not called tuition as Gov. Ronald Reagan proposed. The governor — and some regents—ask, "What's the difference?"

By a 14-7 margin, regents voted yesterday against Reagan's suggested $250 annual tuition per student. Then, four hours later, they decided by voice vote on a charge that is to "finance a program of student aid, faculty enrichment and-or other uses." The amount is to be set later by a special committee.

Regent Frederick G. Dutton of Sausalito helped lead the opposition to the governor's proposal. He put through a motion appointing a second committee to study "additional or alternate sources of revenue so that student charges can be kept at a minimum."

Reagan, a Republican, said some of the regents apparently had been "hung up" over the word "tuition."

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, a Democrat, told reporters the proposal of a "charge" was "maneuvering designed to give the governor something that he and his supporters could say they were for."

"This board is no longer competent to direct the affairs of this university," said Unruh.

"This board has performed ignobly at best," he added.

Reagan and Unruh are both ex-officio members of the board or regents.

Unruh told the board that if it voted for the charge it could not be trusted in the future.

"I implore you not to take this action by changing one word. That is sheer hypocrisy.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Liberal Russian Writer Dies

MOSCOW (AP)—Ilya G. Ehrenburg, for years one of the Soviet Union's most prominent and most controversial writers, died last night of a heart attack, the Soviet Union of Writers announced.

Ehrenburg

Ehrenburg, 76, had suffered a heart attack about 10 days ago. His condition deteriorated steadily.

He died at his home in Moscow, friends reported.

The funeral was expected to be held Monday.

At the time of his death Ehrenburg generally was regarded as a liberal in the constant struggle between Stalinists and liberals over the degree of realism permitted in Soviet writings. But earlier, the Jewish writer helped rally Soviet Jews to support Stalin during World War II. Then he survived Stalin's last round of purges, which virtually wiped out Soviet Jewish culture. Many other Jewish cultural leaders were killed.

Ehrenburg's 1954 novel "The Thaw" was one of the first public signs that Stalin's system was breaking up after the dictator's death.

Carlsbad Cave Bats Are Dying

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Phillip van Cleave, naturalist at Carlsbad Caverns National Park, says a high number of deaths have been noted among cavern bats.

He said it's impossible to tell how many bats have died because of the fluctuation in population and the number of migrant bats which come into the caverns.

As to cause, he said, "it's a wide open question" but "it points to some sort of poisoning."

Sonic Booms Said Intentional

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is deliberately causing sonic booms over the nation's largest cities as a "public relations ploy" to prepare the public for supersonic transport flights, says Rep. Thomas M. Rees.

Sonic boom tests are being conducted over Los Angeles, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis and Indianapolis, the California Democrat said.

He said 564 damage complaints have been filed in Los Angeles alone, and declared that "under the guise of military necessity, the Air Force apparently is deliberating creating sonic booms to condition the public to accept supersonic noise and damage as a way of life."

Judge Halts Start In Medi-Cal Cuts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Reagan administration's plans to cut back services in the state's medical care program for the poor starting today have been blocked again by a Sacramento judge.

Superior Court Judge Irving Perluss refused yesterday a move by the state that would have allowed the major reductions in Medi-Cal services to start today as planned.

He did, however, move up from Sept. 8 to Sept. 6 another hearing on whether the temporary restraining order blocking the cutbacks should be lifted.

The administration had announced plans to trim various services starting today for the 1.5 million persons eligible for the program that provides "mainstream" medical care, paid by the state, for the needy. It said the legislature forced this move by limiting Medi-Cal expenditures this year to $600 —and current spending was running at an $180 million rate for the year.

Among services cut out were eye care, dental work, nonemergency operations and physical therapy.

Perluss told members of the state attorney general's staff representing the administration that "I don't think we could forgive ourselves . . . if a stroke victim lost the use of a leg because he didn't get physical therapy in the next five days."

Perluss was once the state employment director and said he understood the problems the administration faces. Next week's hearing, he explained, won't deal with the merit of the cutbacks, but only with the question of whether they are legal under current law.

State officials want the cutbacks to take effect as soon as possible because, they say, each day they aren't in effect costs $500,000 that can't be afforded under the legislative budget limit.

The cuts are being challenged by Sheldon Greene, head of the California Rural Assistance League's Modesto office. He obtained the restraining order against the service reductions because, he contends, they would do irreparable harm to the poor people who need medical care most and can afford it least.

Widow Claims Shirley's Nod Just A Jest

SAN MATEO (UPI) — The widow of Rep. J. Arthur Younger, R-Calif., says her husband was just joking when he suggested that Shirley Temple run for Congress.

Mrs. Black had said that on Easter Sunday "our late and dearly beloved congressman from this district, Art Younger, suggested that I run for Congress."

"I assured him I would give the matter serious thought," the one-time child movie star said.

But Mrs. Younger said yesterday that the conversation took place at a country club and lasted only two minutes. She said her husband "could only have said it in jest."

At the time, Mrs. Younger said, her husband did not know he was ill with leukemia and intended to seek re-election.

Younger died in June. Mrs. Black announced this week that she was seeking the Republican nomination in the election to succeed him.

Demo Leader, Reformer Dies At 97

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. J. Borden (Daisy) Harriman, who led a busy, zestful life from "a box seat at the America of my times" and who became a well-loved figure in the Democratic party, is dead at 97.

Mrs. Harriman died in her sleep last night in her Georgetown home, surrounded by the Mementos of a crowded life as socialite, campaign worker, crusader for social rights and pioneer woman diplomat.

"I hope," she once told an interviewer after detailing her life story, "I make it sound electric, for it was."

Born Florence Jaffray Hurst, the daughter of a wealthy British ship owner, she dubbed herself "Daisy" as a child because of her fondness for a daisy-trimmed hat.

MARRIAGE

After her marriage at 19 to a New York banker who was second cousin to W. Averill Harriman, now deputy secretary of state, she helped establish the Colony Club, New York City's first social club devoted exclusively to women.

Her life was soon to take a different course.

She met Franklin D. Roosevelt when a group of New Yorkers set up milk stations for the poor. Soon she was campaigning for certified milk, against child labor and helping to establish a rest farm for tubercular patients.

In 1906, Gov. Charles Evans Hughes appointed her manager of the New York Reformatory for Women.

Six years later, enthusiasm for Woodrow Wilson, ignited while she was attending the Democratic National Convention as a spectator, led her to form Women for Wilson. It was the first womens' group active in a political campaign and marked the beginning of her long association with the Democratic party and its central figures.

PUBLIC POSTS

She held many public posts, and in 1922 founded the Women's National Democratic Club.

In 1937, President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed her minister to Norway. She was the second woman to reach that rank.

President John F. Kennedy in 1963 presented her a citation of merit for distinguished service and hailed her "illustrious career of public service."

Mrs. Harriman's husband died in 1914 and their daughter, Ethel, died 10 years ago. Survivors include Charles Russell of San Francisco, a grandson; Phyllis Marcy, a great- granddaughter and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

Judge Denies Vietnam Referendum On Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— San Francisco voters may not legally cast ballots in the November city election to voice their opinions on the war in Vietnam, a superior court judge ruled yesterday.

But Judge Byron Arnold said he regretted that the city charter and the state constitution both prohibit such a vote, and suggested the mater be taken to the California Supreme Court.

"Since we are sending observers to Vietnam to be sure that the Vietnamese have the right to free elections, it seems ironic that we are limited by our own charter," Arnold said.

"I think there should be free expression of the voters on such matters, the judge added. "But under the law, I must deny the petition."

A group called Citizens for a Vote in Vietnam had submitted a petition with 22,000 signatures — well over the requirement — calling for a referendum on the Vietnam war in the next municipal election.

San Francisco's city attorney, however, refused to place it on the ballot because he said the city charter prohibits voting on matters except those in which the city government is competent to act.

Judge Arnold declined to overrule the city attorney's decision. The citizens group said they would take the issue directly to the California Supreme Court because time is short befor the Nov. 7 election.

Fight Rages Between Rival Chinese Armies In Canton

HONG KONG (UPI) — A "bloodbath" theatened by anti-Mao Tse-tung rebels against Maoist Red Guards in Canton has been raging for two days amid fierce artillery duels between rival army forces, travellers quoted by right wing Hong Kong newspapers said today.

The arrivals said the death-dealing purge in south China's largest city, scheduled to begin today, erupted two days early when an army division rushed from Peking began attacking two mutinous army brigades backing Canton's anti-Maoists.

According to the travellers, the Peking troops of the 47th army division mounted an artillery attack against army rebels entrenched in the White Cloud Hills area near Canton Airport.

They said fierce artillery duels delayed departure of two planes sent by Premier Chou En-lai to bring leaders of the two opposing Red Guard groups to Peking for a "peace conference."

Meanwhile, Peking Radio today said Mao and his top military leaders declared "urgent measures must be carried out on a grand scale immediately in all branches of the army" to improve miliary-civilian relations in China's worsening inner power struggle.

The appeal was the latest in a series of pleas from Peking for an end to rivalry between army troops and civilian supporters of party Chairman Mao and Defense Minister Lin Piao.

Session Delayed

A meeting Tuesday between Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors and San Francisco supervisors to discuss a second deck has been postponed indefinitely, bridge officials reported yesterday.

Arraignment Held On Morals Charge

A San Rafael man, Julio Sanchez Garcia, 31, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony complaint of lewd and lascivious behavior with a 13-year-old girl.

Plea entry was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. Garcia alias Julio Sanchez, of 136 Park Street, is accused of the behavior in San Anselmo Tuesday. He also is charged with misdemeanor indecent exposure.

Van Thieu, the leading presidential candidate, nor his running mate, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, showed up. Their military ticket is generally expected to win over the 10 civilian slates.

President Johnson's 22-man VIP election inspection team reported no South Vietnamese election hanky-panky. Instead reports of Communist terror rolled in.

U.S. spokesmen said four Marines were killed and at least 49 others wounded when mortar shells smashed into the 3rd Marine Division barracks at Phu Bai, 390 miles north of Saigon. The mortar shells exploded amid the Marines' bunks.

The U.S. troops and government soldiers today moved in around voting places in hopes of blunting the Communist attacks. But spokesmen reported:

Guerrillas, who have kidnaped about 200 persons in two days, today stormed into Kim Nam hamlet 390 miles northeast of Saigon and marched off with 65 citizens including the chief and 12 sub-chiefs.

In nearby hamlets, more terrorists kidnaped another 78 civilians, mostly men of militia age apparently being "drafted" at gunpoint into Viet Cong ranks.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Vietnam commander, ordered all his men off Saigon's streets.

tentatively identified as Marin Residents, were booked at the county jail on suspicion of possession of narcotics and being under the influence of drugs. Cann said needle marks were also present on all of their arms. They were being held in lieu of $3,300 bail each.

The 16-year-old girl was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Cann said Tainter was later identified as being absent without leave from the Navy since May 31.

Chrysler Rebuffs Union Demands

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. today rebuffed an 11th hour union demand and strongly denied Walter P. Reuther's charge that the big three car makers "conspired" to shut down the industry in the event of a United Auto Workers strike.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler president, told newsmen in Chicago that he was spurning Reuther's demand that the firm break the industry front and accept a UAW offer exempting Chrysler from consideration as the union's strike "target."

Townsend's comment set the stage for Reuther, the UAW president, to name a "target" company at a news conference late today, only six days before contracts covering 652,000 "big three" workers expire.

A strike against the target firm appeared certain, with the union and industry still at odds on nearly every issue after 40 days of bargaining for a new three-year contract.

Reuther charged yesterday that General Motors Corp., the industry giant, had "blackjacked" Chrysler and Ford Motor Co. into a secret "conspiracy" under which all three companies would shut down if one of them is struck.

Reuther's strategy is to strike only his "target" firm and let the other two keep operating.

He offered Chrysler exemption from consideration as the strike target yesterday, providing the firm would agree to extend the present contract—in effect a guarantee that it would keep its factories running after contracts expire at midnight Wednesday.

When Chrysler replied that contract extensions should be decided later, Reuther interpreted it as proof that the car makers were conspiring to close the industry and lock his union out. He gave Chrysler 24 hours —until this afternoon—to agree to his terms.

Otherwise, Reuther said, he would pick the target today.

to express himself, and they did," said McCarthy. "Everyone got their gripes out on the table."

McCarthy said he was "absolutely positive" the Republicans did not have the necessary 21 votes to replace Burns next week.

If one of the other candidates were elected president pro tem in January, McCarthy automatically would lose the Republican leadership.

The legislature reconvenes Monday to consider bills vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan since the regular session ended Aug. 6. The even balance of party power in both houses of the legislature, however, makes any vetoes unlikely.

Los Angeles Smog Ends; Heat Continues

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The worst smog attack in a decade was over today but the record-breaking heat wave went into its 42nd day with no end in sight.

The Weather Bureau said searing temperatures would continue through the Labor Day weekend with readings 12 degrees above normal.

watched. They didn't do anything. They didn't even ask me if I was hurt. They just turned and walked away.

"They were like so many animals watching the survival of the fittest. If you don't make it, it's just too bad.

"I went home and called the police. The police just shrugged their shoulders when I told them. They said: 'You can't expect people to help you anymore.'" adopted by the sheriff's office.

Anyway, Miss Davenport still had her purse.

RIGHTS

"There is no guarantee," said Mrs. Aaron. She added that she is certain Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos would give the recommendations serious consideration.

As one indication of the sheriff's cooperation, Mrs. Ilys K. Hernandez, secretary of the human rights commission, pointed out that the sheriff had joined the commission in asking for a study of Marin City by Prof. Gordon E. Misner of the University of California.

Gregory L. Baines, Sausalito school counselor and newly appointed member of the Police Community Relations Committee, was chief spokesman for Marin City youths. Baines said it is important that when incidents occur, witnesses at the scene are able to contact someone immediately to lodge their grievances or present evidence.

Mrs. Aaron said the Police Community Relations Committee is the body to take up grievances. "That's why we added representatives from the youth group," she explained. Three Marin City representatives who attended for the first time last night as committee members are James Bullock, 21; Robert Washington, 19; and Walter Turner, 19.

Baines said his group is willing to follow legal procedures. "But if we inform the guys and follow procedures and then are still abused by the police, then it's going to put us in a bad light."

The committee last night also agreed to start setting up a town forum, another recommendation made by Professor Misner.

Mrs. Aaron appointed the following citizens to serve on the town forum committee:

Baines, James Coleman, Douglas Quiett, Mrs. Dorothy Jones, and Mrs. Alice Ruth Curry. Quiett will call the first meeting of the group.

The French Academy started preparing a new dictionary in 1937. It has now reached the Cs.

REGENTS

What will the students believe in the future?"

Reagan said during the morning session that changing the word "tuition" would be "hypocrisy." After agreeing to the charge, the governor said, "A rose is a rose."

Reagan proposed tuition during last fall's election campaign. Early this year, he proposed a $400 tuition in the coming college year and the regents voted it down.

California residents pay no tuition at the nine-campus university, but they must pay incidental fees averaging about $250 a year. The new charge will be in addition to the present fee.

He said his administration would next press the legislature for a hike in student charges in the 19-campus state college system.

Students Boost Reagan's Stock

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI)—A group identifying itself as Students for Reagan today boosted a national drive to advance the political career of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The Republican governor was lauded by the group attending the national convention of Young Americans for Freedom. YAF, a conservative group, has not endorsed anyone for the presidential nomination.

"He (Reagan) has the sort of youthful political appeal attributed to John F. Kennedy, and he unified the party in California," Williams said.

More Wheat To Go To India

This brings the total made available so far to 2.5 million tons, and another 500,000 tons have been authorized.

Johnson told reporters it will be determined at a later date whether the additional 500,000 tons can be made available. He said that will depend on such factors as the extent to which other nations match U.S. donations.

Booby Trap Injures Hong Kong Constable

HONG KONG (UPI)—A police constable was injured today when a terrorist booby trap exploded on a hillside in Tsuen Wan town in the New Territories.

Police said two constables were investigating a suspicious object hanging from a flag pole at a resettlement project in the industrial town when one stumbled and kicked a "stone" near the pole. The stone exploded, wounding the officer in the head and chest.

Gun Mailing Control Backed By Hoover

WASHINGTON (UPI) —FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover called today for strong laws to ban mail-order sale of firearms and to require registration of guns.

Writing in the FBI Bulletin, Hoover said, "The time for debate is past; the time for action is here." He said primary responsibility for gun control measures is at the local level but he said federal action is also needed.

Woman Aims Gun At Chaplain

VALLEJO (UPI) — A Navy chaplain was held at gunpoint for three hours yesterday by the berserk wife of an officer at Mare Island Naval Shipyard.

Lt. Cmdr. Albert Kirkland was summoned to the woman's home after her teen-age daughters reported their mother was breaking the furniture.

She poked a gun through the door and held it on Kirkland while he and others sought to calm her. Five shots, none of which hit anybody, were fired before she surrendered.

The woman was taken to Napa State Hospital.

Injections May Transfer Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A psychologist today predicted "with a shudder" that it will some day be possible to transfer knowledge and memory from one person's mind to another by brain injections.

Dr. David Krech of the University of California at Berkeley offered the "highly speculative" forecast in a paper prepared for presentation at the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association. Some 15,000 psychologists are attending the meeting, which opened today and will continue through Monday.

Krech said results obtained in recent laboratory experiments at Berkeley corroborate indications reported earlier by other scientists that memories recorded in one mind may be transplanted intact to another mind "via injections of brain-extracts of nucleoproteins or RNA."

Attorney Wants To Quit Case

UKIAH (AP) — An attorney appointed by court to represent one of two Ritzville, Wash., youths accused of three slayings in three different states said today he is going to ask to be let off the assignment.

"In my present frame of mind, I do not feel that I could adequately represent the defendant," said the attorney, Leo Cook.

A Mendocino County Superior Court named Cook to represent Thomas Braun, 18, accused with Leonard Maine, 18, of killing Timothy Luce, 17, son of the Lake County district attorney.

Plane Speed Limit Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government today proposed a 288-mile-an-hour speed limit in the sky to reduce chances of aircraft collisions.

The Federal Aviation Administration proposed a rule to set the limit for all planes flying below 10,000 feet.

The same limit of 288 miles per hour —or 250 knots, as the FAA designates it —already applies to planes within 30 miles of their destination or departure point and under 10,000 feet.

Marin Dining And Wining

Music Requests May Indicate Countries Travelers Prefer

It must be that travel to the Hawaiian Islands has fallen off slightly — if the experience of Ken Judnick is any indication.

Ken, who is the strolling accordionist at La Petite Auberge, finds that people who are about to make a trip to another country or have just returned from one usually request the music from that part of the world they have visited. Recently he has had very few diners ask for Hawaiian songs — but, he says, there has been a run on Greek music.

Greek, Hawaiian, Italian, French or Russian—it's all the same to Ken, who manages to flex his fingers on the keys in just about any language. There's no doubt that live music of this kind makes for gaiety in dining and I have no doubt that it is one good reason for La Petite's continuing popularity. A combination of good food, good wine and good music is hard to beat and is bound to bring diners back for an encore.

Warm evenings are no problem here. Once the roof section is slid back the dining area is very comfortable with its natural air conditioning. Chances are you won't even notice the ceiling opening unless you look for it because of the wisteria vine's coverage.

If you don't find a nearby parking space these nights, try the parking lot of the Food Mart at Fifth and Tamalpais. After 6:30 p.m. La Petite customers are allowed to leave their cars here.

INFORMATION leaks out slowly on plans for a reopening where Two Bells used to be (on Vivian Way, San Rafael), but perhaps it's because the new owners themselves are not sure of the exact type of operation they want.

This much I do know: It will be called Taberna and corporation papers have been filed under the name of Taberna, Inc. Principals are Roland A. Ledtke and Robert Czyz of San Rafael and a third party who calls herself Jeanielle. I believe that's the way she spells it.

Presently proposed is a cocktail lounge, with some possibility of a businessmen's lunch. Whether it will again become a restaurant has not yet been decided.

HOMESICK for East Coast food? No need to be — Sabella's flies in live Maine lobsters, Cherrystone clams and Bluepoint oysters daily and you can take your pick from the lobster tank if you're fussy.

Parking is better here lately. The parking lot has been paved and there are new, brighter lights installed, making it easier to tuck in your car and remove it at night.

ENRICO'S in Fairfax will close after Sunday for a vacation, opening again for business on Sept. 12. Meanwhile I've been told that Enrico and Edna Croce have no intention of moving this restaurant to the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center as has been rumored.

There is, however, a strong possibility of a restaurant going in here. Owner Max Friedman has already acquired some restaurant equipment. No smoke in the chimney just yet, but that's not saying there won't be a fire in the range sometime before the end of the year.

ORDINARILY the Sand Dollar at Stinson Beach is closed on Mondays — but this Labor Day weekend there will be an exception. Dinners will be served from 5 p.m. Bar is open from 4 p.m. Susan and Bill Mathews will take care of you. Good menu.

AFICIONADOS of Latin American, Central American and Mexican music will find pleasant listening at the Cow Palace next Friday night in a Festival de la Cancion Latina-Americana at 8 p.m. Xavier Cugat will act as master of ceremonies and musical director and he will have his newest leading lady, Charo. Other stars are El Trio Los Panchos, Maria Victoria, Lillian Dominguez and many new groups and players. Geraldo Del Rio will direct 30 top musicians in the musical backing for the show.

REMEMBER SEPTEMBER — Ten years ago, Kirby Atterbury decided to expand the Caprice in Tiburon. Those were the days when the Caprice occupied one-half of the space where El Borro is now. Try as he might — all he could find was room for one additional table and two chairs, which brought him right out to the sidewalk and Main Street.

Nine years ago, Flamenco artists Daniel and Luisa Maravilla opened up the Rincon Flamenco in the barn at McNear's Beach. I was fine while the warm weather lasted — but in the winter, brr-r-r-h. You had to stamp your feet so hard to keep them warm, the noise outdid the stamping of the Flamenco performers.

Eight years ago, pile driving was started off Sausalito so Ondine could be moved about 25 feet windward over the water and the whole structure could be rebuilt — eventually leading to fixing up the lower deck for what is today the Trident. Good thing the move was made then — otherwise it would have to be done now to make way for the widening of the Bridgeway.

Seven years ago, there was an opening of Nave Lanes at Ignacio — except for Nero's Room, the restaurant, which did not get into action until two months later. And 268-pounder Salvatore Baccaloni and the San Francisco Opera troupe showed up at Sabella's. The reason for mentioning Baccaloni in particular is that he ate almost as much as the rest of them altogether.

Six years ago, Jean Joaquin, then chief at Peacock Gap, held a big meeting there for members of the restaurant industry to try to pioneer a job training program in Marin for high school and College of Marin students to qualify as chefs and restaurant managers. Nothing much happened. But recently training was introduced under "Project Feast" at Tamalpais High School.

Five years ago Hector Rubini went on the McInnis tour to Russia. On his return he disclosed all the dining secrets and some of the recipes behind the Iron Curtain. Add sour cream to whatever you're doing now — and that's it. Ron Hennig and Clayton Stephens took over Di Pietro's from Paul Di Pietro and made it into a straight cocktail lounge instead of a restaurant — which very possibly may happen again under the name of Taberna, as mentioned previously on this page.

Three years ago — I think it was in September, Bob and Meta Kringe got the old Coppa's Cafe redecorated and opened it as the Black Forest, serving good German food. They're still there.

Two years ago, in the Park Madera Center, Corte Madera, Yolanda Apostoli opened her last restaurant — Yo's Den. Last? Who can be sure? That's what she said several times. Ernie Van Asperen announced he would take over the operation of Fred Zelinski's new restaurant, then named the Dolphin — and now the Windjammer.

Just a year ago, up in Cotati, Maxine and Lester Taylor of Mill Valley bought the Green Mill. And Sam's in Tiburon blossomed out in new coat of paint — first one in nobody knew how many years.

ACCORDING TO the statisticians, the average American family over a year's time spends about one-fourth as much in dining out as it expends for meals at home. By 1975 they will be consuming around $160 million of food a year.

Students Take Ad To Thank Taxpayers

DOWNERS GROVE, Ill. (AP) —Members of the 1967 class of Downers Grove High School-South chipped in and bought a full-page newspaper ad to thank taxpayers for their schooling.

The advertisement cost $96. An unofficial committee of about 40 members of the class of more than 300 shared the costs.

House Travel Allowances Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted yesterday to let House members take more taxpayer-financed trips home than senators are allowed.

A bill passed without debate and sent to President Johnson lets each House member take one round trip home for each month Congress is in session.

House members now are limited to four such trips annually at government expense, but senators get six. In recent years Congress has usually met during more than six months.

House members also will be permitted—even if their district is adjacent to Washington—to collect $750 for transportation expenses in lieu of billing for each trip. The present lump sum limit is $300.

Jewel Thieves Under Arrest

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jack ('Murph the Surf') Murphy and Allen Kuhn, convicted of stealing the Star of India and other priceless gems from a New York museum, were arrested during the night for investigation in connection with several recent jewel burglaries here, police said.

Murphy, 30, and Kuhn, 29, both of Miami, Fla., and three other persons were arrested at an exclusive motel in the San Fernando Valley and booked on conspiracy to commit burglary.

Officers said they confiscated $2,000 in unidentified jewelry, three handguns and a complete of burglary tools at the time of the arrests which occurred over a period of six hours after police staked out the motel.

Session Reset

Tiburon Sanitary District board, which usually meets the Tuesday following a Monday holiday, will meet instead next Thursday, due to lack of a quorum, it was announced today by Secretary Francis J. Ryan.

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. at the treatment plant, Mar West Street and Paradise Drive.

Inmate Handed Extra Time In Knife Case

A 28-year-old San Quentin inmate, whose trial on a knife charge allegedly triggered an escape plot by other convicts, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court yesterday to a three-year-to-life term.

The term, meted out by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, will run consecutively to sex offense and burglary sentences now being served by convist Arthur L. Richmond in San Quentin.

Richmond was found guilty Aug. 24 by a Superior Court jury of having a knife in the prison Jan. 2. It was his second trial on the charge.

In the first trial, which ended in a hung jury in June, prison correctional officers said they had intercepted notes of an escape plan by inmates who had been called to testify in Richmond's defense.

Richmond cursed at court officials in both his trials and was ordered handcuffed and gagged by Gardiner in the second one when he refused to keep silent during a conference in the jury's absence.

Retirement Home Report Bill Signed

Gov. Ronald Reagan Wednesday signed legislation which eventually could solve the City of Larkspur's dispute with Tamalpais Retirement Home over the possibility that the home may not be subject to property taxes.

The legislation requires homes for the aged applying for welfare exemption to file an affidavit with details about financing, medical care and residents.

On its face the bill does not appear to offer Larkspur much hope. But the bill concludes that tax-exempt homes for the aged "are seriously undermining the tax base" of some areas of the state.

"Legislation is urgently needed to return some of this lost tax money to local areas," the bill adds. "The information required by this bill will enable the legislature to develop legislation to accomplish this objective at an early time," it states.

It is possible, therefore, that legislation to remove the property tax exemption of a retirement home, such as Tamalpais, could be put into law at next year's legislative session, which convenes in January.

Heir Awaits Transfer On Gun Charges

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Millionaire gun collector William E. Thoresen III remained in custody today awaiting transfer orders to San Francisco where he is charged with unlawful possession and transportation of firearms.

Thoresen, 30, San Francisco, yesterday waived extradition and U.S. Marshal Beverly Perkins said it was up to the Prisoner Control Unit in Washington to decide how and when he would be returned to San Francisco.

Thoresen has been held in Clark County Jail here since he was arrested Aug. 21 on charges of beating a woman and offering a bribe to two detectives to drop the matter.

He is scheduled to stand trial in San Francisco on the firearms charges Oct. 19, resulting from the discovery of a large arms cache in his mansion.

Performing Arts Center Is Given Big Endorsement

The Mill Valley Art Commission last night gave strong backing to the Center for Performing Arts, asking for official city recognition and support for the center.

The commission told Planning Director Harvey Bragdon to draw a resolution of support for action at the next commission meeting.

Commissioners turned down a proposal the center be run as a subcommittee of the commission and said it should be a separate entity.

The commission also endorsed preliminary plans for remodeling of the municipal golf clubhouse to permit a stage to be built. The endorsement will be forwarded to the city council and to the parks and recreation commission, which is in charge of the project.

The commission unanimously approved a request by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council to display photographs taken by children in a summer program this year. The photos will be displayed in the Mill Valley Librarys gallery room at a time not yet set.

Queen's Note Is Just Fine

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister Harold Wilson were sorry they couldn't come, but 7-year-old Kevin Oldland now cherishes a polite note of regrets from the Royal Palace.

The boy wrote "Dear Elizabeth" suggesting she and the prime minister "and some of your friends" come and see him and his pals play football. In reply the queen's lady in waiting, Lady Susan Hussey, told Kevin she was "commanded by the queen to thank you so much for kindly asking her majesty to come and watch you and your friends play football and to say how sorry the queen is not to be able to come."

Flood Control Board To Borrow $18,900

The Corte Madera Flood Control Advisory board last night approved the flood control zone borrowing $18,900 from the county to cover payments to the Corps of Engineers before tax funds become available.

The Corps of Engineers asked the zone for $71,600 to cover land enhancement, engineering and design and diking costs, and the $18,900 is the difference between the funds the zone had on hand and the amount requested by the corps, according to Larkspur City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst. The corps had to have the money before Sept. 11 in order to award the contract for the project, he said.

New Fire Station Floor Plans Advance

Labor Day Worrying Weary Fire Fighters

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The thought of millions of Labor Day campers and travelers worried forestry officials today as fire fighters made further gains in the ravenous forest fires of the Pacific Northwest and California.

National forests in Oregon and British Columbia were closed to logging and recreational use.

Fire officials warned that a discarded cigarette or the careless use of a campfire could touch off a major brush or timber blaze.

"If the rains come as predicted and we get over the holiday weekend without a rash of man-caused blazes by the traditional final summer campers, we may get out of the woods," one forecaster said Thursday.

Fires, many caused by lightning, charred more than 200,000 acres of grass, brush and timber land in British Columbia, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Montana, California and Nevada during the past three weeks.

The potentially disastrous five-day brush fire in the Piru area of Ventura County was contained to day at dawn after searing 3,808 acres of valuable watershed and causing extensive damage to oil field equipment.

It was the last major blaze in a week-long battle against brush fires in Southern California.

At one time yesterday the flames posed a threat to Piru as they swept down Modelo Canyon but fire fighters were able to cut them off.

No serious injuries were caused by the fire, but in the oil field a number of huge tanks were destroyed.

The U.S. Forest Service reported it was the worst fire year in the Pacific Northwest since 1961. Officials estimated more than 2,1000 fires had erupted so far as compared to 2,508 for all of 1961.

Lightning sparked a dozen grassland blazes in Nevada's Elko County Wednesday but quick work by firemen brought them under control before they could ruin much acreage.

Five fires covering an estimated 7,000 acres raged out of control in the Willamette National Forest in Oregon. The state has been without appreciable rain for 70 days.

Today's scheduled opening of Oregon's dove and pigeon season was postponed because of the fires.

Forest closures were extended northward into British Columbia as more than 3,000 men worke

Forest closures were extended northward into British Columbia as more than 3,000 men worked on big fires covering about 55,000 acres.

Parking Limit Begins Tuesday

Starting Tuesday, 40-minute parking will be enforced on the north side of Main Street, Tiburon, according to Public Works Supt. Louis H. Brunini.

No parking is allowed on the south side of Main Street.

The 40-minute restriction was approved by the city council June 26.

Drunken Driving

Aloysius Cloud, 25, of 1251 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, was fined $115 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. San Rafael police arrested him on Fourth Street Wednesday.

Alvin C. Pfefferkorn, Bolinas civic leader, was listed in good condition today at Veterans Administration Hospital in San Francisco, where he was admitted following a heart attack at his home Aug. 25.

Nobel Winner Links Cancer Agent In Early Polio Serums

STANFORD (AP) — Although "nothing catastrophic has happened so far," the early batches cines were contaminated with of Salk and Sabin polio vac- what might have been a dangerous cancer agent, a Nobel Prize winning geneticist asserts.

The scientist, Dr. Joshua Lederberg, was speaking at a meeting of the Genetics Society of America. He heads the Stanford School of Medicine's department of genetics.

Dr. Lederberg said the agent was never correlated to cause cancer in humans and is no longer allowed to remain in the vaccines.

He defined the agent as a passenger virus that caused cancer in newborn hamsters, although not in older hamsters, primates or humans.

But there "is no excuse for a (vaccination) virus being contaminated as the polio virus was," he declared.

"It is not implausible that some polio virus has had some genetic effect on children who have taken it," he said. "The techniques of production and monitoring of live viral agents belong to the Dark Ages . . . The virus should be subjected to complete biological and chemical purification processes before being administered to the public."

Cuban Refugees Held Upgrading Incomes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Federal officials estimate that Cuban refugees probably have paid more in income taxes than the cost of their resettlement in the United States.

Saying that yesterday at an American Sociological Association meeting were John F. Thomas and Earl E. Huyck of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Since Fidel Castro took power in 1959, some 370,000 Cubans have fled to this country, they estimated.

"Cubans have been self-reliant and versatile in their efforts to gain an economic foothold" and "as they have gained experience and a command of English, their income levels have risen," the report said.

Many refugees came from professional or skilled occupations, the report said.

Only 4 per cent of resettled refugees ask government financial help and then usually for no longer than six months, the report said.

Individual's Greater Role In Socialism

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Russian sociologist declared yesterday that in the USSR "much more emphasis is placed on the individual than before."

Dr. Yuri Zamoshking, a Moscow University professor who is vice president of the Soviet Sociologists Association, also said that "mature socialism very much needs the individual" who "can exercise initiative and solve the problems that develop industrially."

Mature socialism and Russian sociology also seek the humanist goals of a society and working conditions allowing the individual personality to "develop its potential for creativity," he added.

Speaking at an American Sociological Association meeting, he also said his country is carrying on a program to learn how workers feel about their jobs, their bosses and their status.

General Store Is Burglarized

Burglars forced the front door of Tweedie's General Store, 290 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, and stole 12 cartons of cigarettes, two cases of wine, and $2.50 cash, sheriff's officers reported today.

Mrs. Ruth Tweedie said Wednesday she discovered the theft on opening the store.

Joyce Kayhan, 736 Alta Vista Road, Tamalpais Valley told deputies Wednesday someone had entered her open garage door, then cut a safety chain to enter the adjacent kitchen door.

Nothing was believed taken.

Plea Entry Set On Marijuana

A 47-year-old Novato man, Fred John Becker, is scheduled for plea entry at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 12 in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of marijuana possession.

Becker was arrested by State Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement agents Saturday after a search of his apartment at 1304 Learfwood Drive disclosed a small amount of what appeared to be marijuana.

Becker is free on $1,650 bail.

If Only The Drivers Were Dry As Statistics!

A new publication of the California Traffic Safety Foundation contains some statistics that should sober the Labor Day weekend driver—but probably won't.

The report, labeled "Alcohol Involvement in Fatal Motor Vehicle Accidents in 41 California Counties in 1966," is principally made up of dry statistical tables. But there is nothing dry in the story they tell.

HERE ARE SOME of them:

Of 1,510 drivers tested for alcohol after fatal accidents, 53 per cent had been drinking.

In two-vehicle crashes wehere responsibility for the accident could definitely be placed, 48.9 per cent of the responsible drivers had been drinking, as compared to 25.9 per cent of the non-responsible drivers.

Single-vehicle accidents killing the driver were responsible for more ties (Marin not among them). In these, 63 per cent had been drinking. There were 842 such deaths in the 41 counties last year.

IN TWO-CAR crashes with only one car in motion and its driver killed, 52 per cent of the drivers had been drinking.

In two-car crashes with only one car in motion in which the driver of the non-moving car was killed, 71 per cent had been drinking.

The report also included statistics on pedestrian fatalities in eight counties (Marin not among them. In these, 445 of 827 drivers tested had been drinking — and 135 of 302 pedestrian victims tested.

All these statistics serve to point up the well-known fact that alcohol and gasoline don't mix.

THEY POINT UP also, some other facts?

The drinking driver is more likely to kill himself than anybody else. He's gambling with his own life first, then with the lives of others.

The non-drinking driver is at the mercy of the drinkers. Chances are two-to-one he won't be a fault in the crash that kills him — but he can't get much satisfaction out of that after he's dead.

And what they point up more than anything is that there is far too much drinking — and far too many people who get behind the wheels of automobiles after imbibing.

Things would be different if the drivers were as dry as the statistics.

Neutral About Billboards?

We feel so strongly about billboards detracting from the landscape, that we just naturally assumed everyone felt the same way. Not so, says an independent research study.

Most people, shown slides of the same landscape with and without billboards, didn't notice the difference.

In fact, more people noticed utility lines than noticed billboards. And most people felt a landscape completely bereft of billboards and utility lines was a bit boring.

We nature-lovers have our blind spots like everyone else.

Mystery Surrounds Use Of Liner Bought With State Oil Revenues

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Already, a veil of secrecy is surrounding the future operations of the Queen Mary, obsolete Cunard ocean-liner purchased with tideland oil money by the City of Long Beach as a "harbor improvement" but actually to be used as a convention center, hotel, restaurant, amusement facility, and maritime museum.

Incorporation papers for "Queen Mary on Long Beach, Inc." were filed this week with Sec. of State Frank M. Jordan, with the directors listed as Arthur D. Guy and Lyman W. Lough, Long Beach attorneys, and Marcia Esheleman, law office secretary.

ALTHOUGH PURCHASE of the liner was made with more than $3 million of public money, and added to the purchase will be other charges bringing the total out of the tideland oil funds to $5,311,500 as the initial capital investment, Guy refused to disclose any details as to the make-up of the new corporation.

The ultimate directors of the corporation, he indicated, would not be disclosed, and the operators of the facility will remain a secret, for the moment at least.

He also refused to say whether the new corporation is tied in with the California Museum Foundation, which formerly was known as Exposition Park Associates. This organization, which functions at Exposition Park in Los Angeles, has been mentioned as the operator of the proposed maritime museum aboard the liner. Directors of the California Museum Foundation, registered as a charitable trust with the attorney general's office here, number some outstanding figures in the political world, including J. Howard Edgerton, president of the California Federal Savings and Loan Co.; Howard Ahmanson, who has been a political figure for several state administrations, and Edwin W. Pauley of Pauley Petroleum Co., as well as many others.

PREVIOUS announcements in Long Beach indicate the city will "farm out" the concessions aboard the Queen Mary, and expects to derive some $600,000 annually from its investment of the tideland oil money, which it shares with the State of California by legislative enactment, in the old ocean liner.

Whether the city can use this revenue for purposes other than harbor improvement has not been made clear.

But in any event, purchase of the vessel by the city easily could touch off a legislative investigation to determine whether Long Beach is receiving too large a cut from the rich revenue resulting from oil operations on state tidelands granted to the community for harbor improvement and promotion of commerce.

THE CITY NOW receives a share of the revenue from oil after the expenses of subsidence control have been paid. The state gets all the revenue from sale of gas. The split was decided on by the legislature nearly 10 years ago when a compromise was reached to avoid a lengthy and costly court suit.

It would also be interesting for the legislature to find out just what a more than $5 million investment of public money in a museum and superde luxe tourist trap has to do with navigation and commerce.

Board Members Object To Report

Editor, Independent-Journal:

According to Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, a reporter is a person who gathers information and writes reports for publication in a newspaper, magazine, etc.; not a person who gathers misinformation and reports non-existent facts and half-truths.

"Backers of Poverty Program Criticized by Jim Brewer" was the title and by-line of an article in the Independent-Journal, dated August 29, 1967. If this was one sentence instead of a title and by-line, it would have been one of the very few factual statements in the article.

If a person looks at a scene through glasses that have been tinted with misunderstanding, pre-conceived ideas and uncontrolled emotional involvement, the scene would be distorted.

Where members of a board are eliminated according to the rules set up by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, this is not persecution of any board member present or past.

Where a member of the board is condemned for certain alleged transgressions, by a member of the audience, this is not a condemnation by the Target Area Action Board.

This reporter, with distorted vision, stated that property owners on the board scolded Tom Storer for allowing the E.O.C. to come into Marin County (one of the richest counties in the U.S.A.). As a matter of fact, the audience scolded Tom Storer.

The article stated that the main topic of the meeting was postponed until next Tuesday, and completely ignored the distribution of the survey questionnaire and the minutes of the previous meeting, to the board members. It also failed to mention that the board would have a week to prepare a critique. In this manner the reporter implied that, due to eliminating Mike Healy and condemning Tom Storer, there was no time left for the scheduled agenda.

Let us state the facts correctly and thus bring the misconceptions into focus.

Supervisor Tom Storer spoke to us regarding the War on Poverty, Community Action Program in this Target Area. He repeated what he had previously stated on the KTIM "Sounding Board" Aug. 24, 1967, that as long as the War on Poverty Program caused so much dissension and continued to cause dissension in the Valley, he would ask the board of supervisors to amend their contract with the Marin County E.O.C. and remove the San Geronimo-Nicasio Valleys from the War on Poverty Target Area. This statement was most favorably received by the audience, with the exception of Mike Healy, who scolded Tom Storer . . .

Marian Watson resigned as secretary because she was disenchanted with the Target Area Action Board and E.O.C., as she was under the misconception that we were supposed to be setting up programs, instead of taking a survey, which takes first priority in all E.O.C. programs.

Air Rifles Leave Birds Cruelly Hurt

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Would it be possible to print an article in your good county paper about children shooting birds with air rifles?

Sunday, Aug. 27, two pigeons were found with broken wings, and a B-B shot was found in the area. Two young boys were seen by my husband and me in the area (sometime before this) with air rifles, and we cautioned them about the use of them.

Perhaps an article relating to this might impress parents to regulate the use of guns. Wounding an animal and bird to be left helpless, incapacitated, is a very cruel thing, also I believe unlawful.

I related this to our Sausalito Police Department, and the officer on duty suggested I contact your paper.

Figures Suggest How To Balance Budget

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The war in Vietnam now costs about $30 billion per year.

The government's deficit this year will be about equal to $30 billion.

Star Observer Grateful For Charts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'd like to express my appreciation of the regular star charts and articles on astronomy in the I-J.

Just before my 'teens, a chance identification of the Pleiades one clear winter night led to my learning the constellations. I was blessed with a father who encouraged my hobbies, and he became interested himself. With no previous experience we ground two excellent mirrors, a 6" and a 9", and we had two working telescopes in our yard.

What wonderful marvels we saw with these instruments! Star clusters, cloudy nebulae, dazzling stellar colors and combinations, and the planets — the fast-moving moons of Jupiter and the cool perfection of Saturn and its rings — we never tired of these beauties. Scout groups, class groups, and friends shared them too.

Please continue to print the charts and articles. Who knows how many other childen will see them and become curious, and so learn the continuing friendship of the stars.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1, 1957

Frank Lloyd Wright, 88-year-old dean of American architects and designer of the Marin Civic Center, was asked by Mike Wallace on a television interview: "Which group will inherit the country in 15 years — the Elvis Presley fans or the Frank Lloyd Wright fans?" Replied Wright, "The Frank Lloyd Wright fans, undoubtedly."

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1, 1947

The War Assets Administration rejected as too low the City of Sausalito's bid for 10 parcels of Marinship. Three parcels of the wartime shipyard property were sold to private bidders.

TWO GRUFF old greats of yesteryear who knew and admired each other were Somerset Maugham and Spencer Tracy. Maugham came to a Hollywood studio to visit Tracy one day when the latter was starring in a remake of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" — a project, incidentally, that he loathed from the start. He had abandoned his grotesque Mr. Hyde disguise and was stylishly robed as the elegant Dr. Jekyll when Maugham arrived on the set. "Ah, both Jekyll and Hyde," nodded Maugham solemnly, "and which one are you now?"

Rockefeller-Reagan Ticket Might Prove Strongest GOP Could Run

By CARLETON KENT

WASHINGTON — At this time, with 14 months to go until the presidential election, the best bet for Democratic politicians is to act just the way John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, did last week at a 13-state Far Western party conference.

He spoke of seven years of Democratic accomplishment in Washington, despite brutish opposition from the Republicans. He did not mention the war in Vietnam. And he stirred up what interest he could in the "Republican leading men who are going to be cutting and slashing each other from coast to coast."

THIS REPORTER is one of a very few observers who doesn't think it's a cinch that President Johnson will run for re-election. Bailey may be another, although the record doesn't show.

At any rate, the chairman has to count on having the champ back to defend his title, and the prospects aren't so very bad. As for those waning polls, Bailey has seen them sag, and then soar, more than once. Besides, there is at least a hope, a dream, that the war in Vietnam might be ended by November of 1968.

That is the kind of a dream that wakes up the Republican politicians late at night, whimpering, for recent polls show that Vietnam is the biggest political trouble the administration has.

CONTRARIWISE, what may bring Bailey shivering into wakefulness during the meager hours is the thought of bucking the strongest ticket the Republicans could throw at the Democrats next year, if they were to overcome their strong feeling for intramural destruction.

In this department's book it is one composed of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, and everything is wrong with it except that it might work.

There is such a lovely economy about it, combining the attractive head men of the nation's two most populous states — this for openers on the nominating convention floor, and in the electoral college. It includes the photogenic, gregarious poles of the GOP, left and right, and encompassing the middle, where the mass of votes is found.

Naturally they are, for the time being, ideologically incompatible, as well as being partly committed by early-on statements that neither wants to run, regardless of whether in team with the other or not.

But often ways of overcoming such reluctance can be found. It was, for example, General Eisenhower's duty to win 15 years ago. It became Adlai Stevenson's duty to run, and to lose well.

That is to say, he reflected his concern about the one-time movie actor, whose right-wing campaign pitch was for stringent economy in California, but who has increased his popularity by putting through the biggest budget in the state's history. He has moved toward the center.

The Republican who Bailey didn't talk about at any length is the man he has to want to have his side run against: Richard M. Nixon, who has worked the hardest of all the Republican hopefuls, and who has the longest record of fund-raising and morale-building activities for the party.

As of now, Nixon undoubtedly has the most IOUs — convention commitments from the party's regular workers. But, perhaps only because they did it once, the Democrats think he could be easiest beaten again, and many Republicans join them.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

'Councils For Civic Peace' Being Pushed Hard By Humphrey

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Vice President Humphrey is urging the nation's governors to consider the formation of "councils for civil peace at state and, where possible, metropolitan levels to combat future riots."

In telephone calls and letters, Humphrey is saying the councils could provide a state community-relations service designed to prevent violence and to gain community cooperation and hear the voices of those who have gone unheard.

In pledging the administration's financial support for the councils, the vice president pointed out federal funds could be made available under existing programs, including those of the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the war against poverty.

He stressed that the councils could include "representation from all racial and religious groups in the state, the state attorney general's office, the National Guard, law enforcement agencies, and officials of local government."

CAUTIOUS RECEPTION — While several of the governors expressed interest in Humphrey's crisis plan, most wanted additional details before acting.

One Republican governor made it clear that he didn't want any new federally financed council operating in such a way as to take over any of the functions of duly elected state and city governments.

Another governor raised the question whether the councils were being pushed by the administration to create grassroots support for the "Marshall Plan for the cities" that Humphrey proposed in a recent speech. He cited reports that the administration plans to ask Congress for a big, expensive program to improve ghetto conditions in early 1968.

Humphrey's reply was that the councils would be set up to help states and their communities forestall future tragedies like those that occurred in Detroit and Newark.

The Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders which President Johnson established is studying the Humphrey crisis plan and is expected to publicly endorse it.

PREDICTIONS — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., will enter the New Hampshire primary next March 12, the first in the presidential sweepstakes. . . . President Johnson continues to give every indication of intention to seek another term. He has told Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., leading anti-Vietnam opponent, that he will wholeheartedly support his re-election, and has given the same word to other Democratic critics of his policies. . . . The Senate Commerce Committee will report out next month a bill designed to put the natural gas pipeline industry under federal regulation. Legislation to do that has been pending for some 15 years, and is still vigorously opposed by pipeline concerns. But the committee, headed by Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., is set to send a strong bill to the Senate for a vote. Its prospects there are conjectural.

Uruguay, one of the most complete welfare states in the world, is verging on bankruptcy. By the end of this year, some $65 million in short-term loans to foreign banks, mainly in New York, fall due and Uruguay has virtually no foreign reserves to pay. If the banks refuse to extend the due dates, Uruguay may be forced to sell $40 million in treasury gold reserves it still has.

Parking Markers Come Unglued As Dogs Pant In Mill Valley Streets

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church is taking beautiful shape in Mill Valley, its thin cross-topped spire and circular roof visible all the way down Miller Avenue. It is a magnificent design — as the Michelin Guide says of super-restaurants, "worth a special trip."

Progress is not always so regular as it seems to be for the church.

Mill Valley's street crew is improving the motorist's lot by marking parking spaces on downtown streets with new rubbery white ells and tees.

The tough-skinned stuff, in 12, 18 and 24-inch lengths, glues directly onto the street, but the crew complained that the glue doesn't set immediately in hot weather.

Maybe they will have to glue them down at night. But it's only an experimental program anyway, the crew said.

SOUTHERN MARIN'S principal cities are strikingly different, as any casual visitor can tell, but many of us are hard-pressed to name either Sausalito or Mill Valley a favorite. To make some unfair allegorical comparisons. . . .

Mill Valley is a town where the family dog wanders through downtown and says hello to everyone. In Sausalito the dog as like as not will be wearing blue sunglasses and a God's-eye around his neck.

In Sausalito the hippies are a tourist attraction, collecting daily in the plaza to sun and be seen in their transbay Haight-Ashbury. In Mill Valley hippies must be sought out — at East Totem West, or at Chronos, hidden away on El Paseo, or browsing at the Pampa Bookstore.

Mill Valley is a two-story Victorian house, restored and lovingly landscaped. Sausalito is a bachelor pad from Playboy.

You might say that Mill Valley is like the spinster in the movies who turns into Marilyn Monroe when she takes off her glasses. Sausalito has the universal raffish appeal of the prostitute with a heart of gold, which is why it is chockablock with tourists all year.

IT'S TRUE ABOUT the Mill Valley dogs — they lie in the street and smile at motorists dodging them.

They mostly seem to be shaggy and large types, in gloriously mixed breeds that prove the universal democracy of dogdom.

My theory is that the climate gives the dogs their shaggy coats and uniformly amiable temperament. The cool fog pouring over Throckmorton Ridge probably stimulates their hair follicles and keeps them calm.

The downtown dog population was noticeably smaller during Tuesday's heat wave. Which at least proves they are neither mad nor Englishmen.

The real hot weather won't come until next month, according to one wet-finger forecaster in Mill Valley. "It always gets hot when the kids go back to school," predicted Si Weil of Redhill Liquors.

Man has measured the distance from the earth to the stars; he has weighed them, he has even analyzed their composition. And man has made war. I know of no more striking symbol of the disparity of this creature who is capable at the same time of so much genius and so much stupidity.—Michael Corday

It's Nice That Peking Knows We Don't Mean Bombs For Them

WASHINGTON — One of the most reassuring things that has happened in the past few weeks is the Johnson Administration's confident reading of what is going on in the minds of the Red Chinese. The President has assured us that there are hardly any risks involved in bombing so close to the Red Chinese border, and we're told that Peking "knows" we have no intention of getting into a war with them at this time.

What has many people in Washington worried is not that the Red Chinese will become involved directly in the Vietnam conflict (we have Dean Rusk's pledge they won't), but that what the United States is doing in North Vietnam could start a precedent for future wars of liberation.

SUPPOSE 10 YEARS from now President De Gaulle is "stalemated" in his efforts to free the French people of Canada from their despotic rulers in Ottawa. By this time he will have committed the French Army, the French Navy and the French Foreign Legion to the war; yet Ottawa has refused to give up. De Gaulle will be faced with a very tough decision.

"Monsieur le President, we have no choice but to bomb Ottawa, Toronto and Winnipeg. English-speaking Canada must be taught a lesson once and for all," a general says.

"But if we bomb Toronto, won't we run the risk of the United States getting in the war on the side of the Canadian aggressors?"

"Mais non, Monsieur le President. If you go on the television and say that France does not desire a wider war with the United States, and all she is doing is trying to get Ottawa to come to the conference table, they will have no choice but to stay out of it."

"Ah yes, but suppose the United States does not accept this and feels that her border is being threatened."

"Do not worry Monsieur le President. Our American experts say the United States is having so many riots in their country that they couldn't possibly get involved in a foreign engagement. This is the perfect time to escalate."

"I was afraid of that."

"Do not be worried. We notified Mexico to notify Washington that it was a mistake and that we apologize and will try not to do it again."

"That's good thinking, general. The Americans must know we have no quarrel with them. Has there been a reaction?"

"The President of the United States indicated he was very angry, but our intelligence informs us that they will not do anything but splutter."

AT THIS POINT another phone rings. "Monsieur le President, our radar reports that the United States has just launched missiles that are heading straight for the French coast."

"You mean they're attacking us just because we bombed Minneapolis by mistake? I thought you assured me the United States wouldn't get into the Canadian war under any circumstances."

"Ah Monsieur le President, one never knows what's going on in the minds of those wily occidentals."

When a man assumes a public trust, he should consider himself as public property.

Experience should teach us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficent. Men born to freedom are naturally alert to repel invasion of their liberty by evil-minded rulers. The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachment by men of zeal, well meaning but without understanding.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Who's Expected To Swallow 'Friendly Closed Session' Yarn

How much Hoo Mahli-Mahli do they think they can feed you folks? That closed meeting with Bruce was just about the biggest flap that has been attempted yet.

Fusselman

In the I-J on Wednesday, Aug. 16: "Recent actions and public pronouncements by Administrator Alan Bruce that affect county governing policy will be discussed Aug. 29 at a closed session of the board of supervisors . . . Supervisor John F. McInnis, who requested the meeting yesterday, would not elaborate on his reasons."

THEN, AGAIN, in the I-J on Tuesday: "Bruce's Job Secure After Closed Session."

"County Administrator Alan Bruce, 44, emerged from an hour and 20 minute closed session with the Marin County Board of Supervisors still secure in his job."

"Supervisor chairman Thomas T. Storer said the board expressed 'unanimous confidence in his ability.' Storer indicated that the main topic of conversation was the functioning of the administrator's office and his statements and actions covering 'a period of at least 20 months! And Storer conceded that the discussion was critical of some of Bruces statements."

Further on the article stated that, "Storer declined to specify the actions and statements of Bruce, which the supervisors criticized," but he said, "It was a very friendly session."

AGAIN, WHOM DO THEY think they are kidding? The meeting was called at the rquest of McInnis to discuss recent action and pronouncements by Bruce, yet it covered "a period of at least 20 months." McInnis has served just eight months on the board, so to go back for at least 20 months would involve other members as well. This is a case of covering up.

With three supervisors to be elected next year, the board simply couldn't face up to a public discussion of the situation that has been building up since January of '65, because they abdicated and permitted the "most powerful figure in county government" (that was the lead in identical stories in two county weekly papers that year) to call the tune on practically the entire operation.

IF THIS ISN'T TRUE then why couldn't "a very friendly session" have been held in the presence of the public and the press?

It isn't too late for some member of the board to come clean and make a frank uncolored, statement of what took place behind those closed doors. You know, for $9,600 a year salary, there is more expected than to just be present at the meetings and debate in the grand manner.

When an industrial firm with assets of around $250 million, doing an annual business of some $220 to $230 million, with a gross profit of $20 million and a net of $10 million; operates its computer department for under $1 million a year, including payrolls for about 8,000 or more persons and the handling of $40 to $45 million of inventory and production control and all the things that go with such an operation, it becomes crystal clear that the administrator and the board are way off target with their annual computer cost of $500,000 for a $28 million budget.

No prison could be more imprisoning than to be confined within the bars of somebody else's thinking.—Max Miller in "He Went Away for Awhile."

War Leader 'Oblivion' Vote Urged By King

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American people must have the opportunity to "vote into oblivion" leaders who have led the nation to the "brink of a dead world," the Rev. Martin Luther King told the National Conference for New Politics yesterday.

King delivered the keynote address at the NCNP's five-day convention, which today was faced with a boycott by black power advocates in attendance

BLASTED HOPES

"Our hopes have been blasted and our dreams have been shattered" by the Vietnam war, said King, who called on "men of good will" to create a situation in which the 1968 presidential elections would become a "referendum on the war."

The convention is working for the defeat of President Johnson and the end of the war in Vietnam. The new policies conference is a loosely structured affiliation of civil rights and liberal organizations attempting to form an influential political alliance.

BLACK POWER

But the task of the convention was complicated yesterday when representatives of various black power groups vowed to walk out of the conference.

About 200 representatives from militant Negro organizations met to discuss the threatened boycott. In a close vote the representatives elected to stay in the NCNP. But the vote was not binding and the dissidents said they were going to walk out anyway.

King said the cost of the war sapped the ability of the nation to fight poverty, causing despair among Negroes and poor whites.

MASS MURDER

King and Dr. Benjamin Spock have been mentioned as possible running mates for president and vice president on a ticket which would be nominated by the new power delegates.

New Chairman For GOP Group

John S. Russell of Kentfield has been named to head the Marin Republican Youth Advisory Council, GOP county chairman Charles Michals announced.

The council, formed earlier this year, "will actively seek to attract and utilize the services of young people who are interested in working for and learning more about the party," said Michals. The party plans to form Republican youth clubs throughout the county, he said.

Teacher Reception

The Novato Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a champagne reception at 4 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House for about 100 new teachers in the Novato schools, Andrew Bretz, general-manager, said today. Last year the chamber gave the reception for 99 teachers.

Today is Friday, Sept. 1, the 244th day of 1967 with 121 to follow.

The moon is between it last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Saturn and Jupiter. The evening star is Mars.

Born on this day in 1877 was American author Rex Beach.

On this day in history:

In 1878, a woman was employed as a telephone operator for the first time when Miss Emma Nutt took over the switchboard at the Telephone Despatch Co. in Boston.

In 1923, at least 150,000 persons died when an earthquake shook Japan in the areas of Tokyo and Yokohama.

In 1939, World War II broke out as Germany invaded Poland.

In 1965, Pakistani troops moved into the Indian-controlled part of Kashmir and a border war began. The United Nations, after several weeks, finally obtained a cease-fire and sent in an observer team.

A thought for the day — British writer Hector Hugo Monro once said: "Women and elephants never forget an injury."

TIME AND TIDE

WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Failure To Count To 10 Spells Defeat For Expert

Every bridge teacher solemnly assures his students that they'll be unbeatable if they learn to count up to 13.

It's very true, but one of our leading experts failed to count up to 10 in the recent national tournament in Montreal.

SOUND BID

You may not like South's jump to four hearts on the weak four-card suit, but the final contract was perfectly sound.

When you're playing in a Mixed Team Championship, as South was on this occasion, you may have to scramble to keep your partner from playing the hand.

CLUB RUFF

South ruffed the second round of clubs in dummy, reached his hand with the ace of spades and ruffed another club in dummy. Then he cashed dummy's ace of hearts. The fall of the queen was ominous and was speedily confirmed when declarer hopefully led a trump to his own king.

When it became clear that West was going to get two trump tricks, South tried a diamond finesse. Unfortunately, South tried the wrong direction, losing to East's queen of diamonds. Down one.

NO FINESSE

South could have taken 10 tricks without a finesse. After leading a heart to the king, South should lead a spade to dummy's king and ruff a spade. He next leads a diamond to dummy's ace and ruffs dummy's last spade.

FOLLOWS SUIT

West follows suit to all of these tricks, and South next leads the king of diamonds to collect his tenth trick. He gives up the last two tricks very cheerfully.

South would be safe even if West had only three spades. West would overruff declarer and cash another trump trick, but then he would have only diamonds left and would have to give the last two tricks to South's K-ten of diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ K 8 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond.

If partner bids a major suit you can raise. If he bids one notrump, you will pass and let him struggle. Some experts prefer to open this hand with one spade or one heart, but most experts consider it losing procedure to open a weak four-card major suit.

The couple eloped in 1902 and were married by a justice of the peace in Chicago. When they retured to St. Louis they told the bride's parents about the wedding, and the scond marriage took place in a Catholic Church.

Then Wollmershauser informed his parents, and the couple were united in marriage for a third time, by a Lutheran minister. Wollmershauser is a retired government inspector.

U.S. Steel Hikes Price, Ignores LBJ

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp., rejecting a Johnson administration plea for price restraint, has ordered its third steel price increase within a month.

Just hours after Gardner Ackley, the President's top economic advisor, sent telegrams yesterday to steel producers asking them to hold off on further price boosts, U. S. Steel raised the price of its bar products 1.8 per cent.

The increase, effective next Thursday, was identical to one announced Wednesday by Republic Steel Corp., the No. 3 producer. The increases, covering 16 per cent of industry-wide shipments, amount to $3 and $4 a ton on various bar products.

Steel bars are used in a variety of end products, ranging from industrial fasteners to railroad car axles. Other major steel producers had no comment on Ackley's telegram, but said they were studying the new price hikes. But if the industry's price pattern holds, it can be expected to follow suit within the week.

This week's increase marks the first time in a year that big steel came face-to-face with the administration over prices. The White House and the Council of Economic Advisors called a price increase last August "inflationary."

Ackley avoided the word inflationary this time but called the price boosts distressing.

He said the addition of steel bars to products which have gone up in price since November rules out the possibility that the increases were selective and in some cases justified.

The industry, in the past month alone, has raised prices on steel plate, canmaking steels and bars which accounts for a third of shipments.

Spying Fear Closes Strait To U.S. Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union, possibly fearing the United States seeks to spy on a major Soviet nuclear test site, has touched off a diplomatic battle by banning passage of two American icebreakers through an Arctic strait.

The Soviet action drew a strong U.S. protest yesterday. But Washington canceled the planned Arctic excursion while claiming the Soviet blockade violated international sea law.

A State Department spokesman said the icebreakers Edisto and East Wind, ostensibly on the first leg of a scientific mission to circle the Arctic, were denied Soviet permission to pass through Vilkitsky Straits.

The ships originally had not planned to travel through the straits, said State Department press officer Carl Bartch, but were forced to seek an alternate route when blocked by massive ice jams. The area involved is within 500 miles of the North Pole.

The issue is similar to that raised by Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, an incident that triggered the Israeli-Arab war.

The United States maintained then—and the Soviets disagreed—that the ships have the right of innocent passage through straits linking high seas, even when the connecting channel is through national waters.

Innocent Plea To Battery Charge

James Lewis Green, 47, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to battery on a police officer and to obstructing him in his duties.

Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled jury trial for 9:30 a.m. Nov. 9.

Green, of 2300 Vista Del Mar, Tiburon, is accused of struggling with Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff when Goff attempted to arrest him July 30 for a traffic violation.

A second man, Robert E. Wilson, 30, of 1 Vista Del Mar, is scheduled for jury trial Nov. 16 on a charge of failing to aid Goff when Goff thrice requested him to help in the arrest.

Arab Nations Remain Split Over Israel

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The Arab summit conference neared its end today with Egypt and Jordan apparently among the doves—for the time being—and unity of policy toward Israel still out of sight.

The split between moderates and extremists among the 13 Arab nations was emphasized by a report in Egypt's semiofficial press that the three oil monarchies—Kuwait, Libya and Saudi Arabia — had agreed to contribute $378 million to bolster the economies of Egypt and Jordan.

NOTHING FOR SYRIA

The report said Syria, the other active Arab participant in the war and Algeria's ally in demanding immediate resumption of military action, would get nothing from the fund because it "did not submit any assessment of its losses to the conference."

DIPLOMACY

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser suggested obliquely Wednesday that the Arab nations should build up their strength and meanwhile turn to the diplomatic field to "eliminate the traces of Israeli aggression."

Nasser's agreement yesterday to end his long feud with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia over Yemen was seen as a move to conserve Egypt's strength and cut economic losses already heavy from the war.

President Abdullah Sallal of Republican Yemen virtually rejected the peace plan for Yemen's civil war, in which Egyptian troops would leave Yemen in return for a halt to Saudi Arabian aid to the royalist side.

POWERLESS

Sallal apparently is powerless to prevent the departure of the estimated 27,000 Egyptian troops still in Yemen.

Once the Egyptians go, the royalists are expected to take over.

The movement of refugees back into Israeli-held areas of Jordan on the west bank of the Jordan River ended yesterday with Red Cross figures showing 13,955 persons had crossed altogether. Only 458 crossed Thursday, the deadline set by Israel.

About 170,000 Arabs applied for repatriation, but the Israelis approved only 19,000.

$63 Million Suit Is Filed By Silverthorne For Bank

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A $63 million suit has been filed by Don C. Silverthorne, the former San Francisco National Bank president convicted of looting his own bank.

The action was taken yesterday against the comptroller of the currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., charging the defunct San Francisco bank was solvent when closed.

The former executive contended that his bank never failed to meet withdrawal demands of its depositors and the appraised value of its assets was in excess of its liabilities.

The action sought $45 million for depositors, $18 million for shareholders and $5 million for other creditors of the bank.

A federal jury found Silverthorne guilty Feb. 18, 1966, of eleven counts of misapplication of San Francisco National Bank funds and aiding in the theft of an $8,000 bank loan fee.

In addition, a San Francisco Superior Court judge ordered Silverthorne to pay $23 million to the FDIC.

Silverthorne is now appealing his conviction.

Child Delays Expo Trains

MONTREAL (AP)—The Expo express system was thrown out of commission for 25 minutes, provoking anger, pushing and shoving among the heavy crowds at Expo's four stations.

An Expo spokesman said the trouble began last night when a woman panicked after boarding one of the eight Expo trains. Her child had been left on the platform as the train pulled out.

Someone yanked the emergency cord to stop the train so the woman could retrieve her child. Then three youths pulled the emergency cord again when the train restarted. They were arrested.

Separation Papers Are Filed By Wife

Mrs. Virginia Pendleton, wife of Corte Madera Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, has filed for separate maintenance in Marin Superior Court, charging cruelty.

The couple was married in 1947 and has two children. Pendleton also is a sales executive with radio KTIM in San Rafael.

The court action was filed Wednesday.

HILLTOP PIONEER

Outdoor Art Club To Honor Active Fifty Year Member

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mrs. Leighton Robinson, whom the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley will honor at its opening luncheon of the season on Sept. 14, is, she says, a hilltop pioneer, for she has lived in the same house on a Mount Tamalpais slope since 1908.

Kate, as she is affectionately known, will be 90 years old on May 27 and has been an active member of the club for 50 years. She will be presented on Sept. 14 with a scroll and gift as a life member of the club.

She holds the distinction of having paid off the mortgage on the clubhouse at the end of her four years as treasurer of the club during the depression.

Today, though almost blind, she is able to do light work in the main part of the house built originally as a two-room cabin that she and her husband, a sea captain from Cornwell, moved into in 1908.

OVER THE YEARS they made the cabin into a comfortable house, and she lives there with her son Lance, who retired as a colonel in the U.S. Army to take care of his mother after his father died in 1956.

Kate looks back on many romantic years, when she traveled with her husband on the three-masted "Melanope" on its voyages between the United States and Australia. One of these trips their son was born.

They also had a daughter, Guinevere, now Mrs. Joseph Miller of San Francisco, whose frequent visits are enjoyed by her mother.

During the years the children attended Tamalpais High School and the University of California, from which they were graduated, Kate says she was mostly busy being a housewife and doing gardening.

The family did a great deal of sailing and were members of the San Francisco Yacht Club, and she is now a life member. She was a charter member of the Old Mill Parent-Teacher Association and was active in dramatics.

"There was no electricity, no phones and no transportation when we first moved up on the hill so that we had to walk a mile or two almost straight up from the village. Groceries in large amounts to last a long time were delivered by horse and wagon.

"Flashlights weren't common, and when we went down town at night we would put a candle in a tin can, hide it in a tree and pick it up on the way back. The little lanterns were called 'bugs.'"

The Old Mill in Mill Valley has a special sentimental value for Kate.

"When I went shopping I would sit and rest there and think how terrible it would be to have houses across from it. So we were among the group that saved from development that part of the park where the new library now stands."

AN EXCELLENT conversationalist, Kate is right up to the minute on current events, for she spends most of the day listening to radio, records and especially her much prized talking books.

"They are wonderful," she says. "They don't cost anything because they are furnished, with the machine, by the Library of Congress and are mailed from the state library in Sacramento.

"Everything published is recorded, and every two months they send a list of it so that you can check what you want.

"To be eligible," she noted, "a physician has to certify to a certain degree of blindness, and arrangements are made through the Lighthouse for the Blind in San Francisco. You can get books, stories, music, poetry readings and even magazines," she said.

HOLIDAY AHOY

A Recipe To Prepare For The Boat

Holidays are usually busy times for the women in the family, and even more ingenuity is required if you have to prepare for group feeding to "take along."

Mrs. Douglas Joslin of Bel-Marin Keys is an avid boating enthusiast, and so is often called upon to prepare food for onboard consumption.

Step No. 1

Simmer one large frying chicken with one cup Sauterne and water so that there will be two quarts of liquid when cooked. Season with fresh parsley, clove of garlic, or garlic salt. Remove meat from bones after cooling.

Step No. 2

In butter saute two chopped apples; one large chopped onion; one medium chopped green pepper.

Combine the two steps and add: ½ cup fresh coconut in milk; ½ cup blanched almonds; ½ cup currants.

Step No. 3

Make paste of 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup Burgundy and two level tablespoons of curry powder and stir into the combined mixture. Let simmer one hour. Add salt and other seasoning to taste. Let simmer for 1 hour. This is best if allowed to sit for 24 hours in advance of eating so that the flavors have a chance to meld.

This recipe serves four more than adequately and can be easily doubled. Mrs. Joslin suggests serving over rice. She says, "It is wonderful to take aboard and stow away under a tight cover until mealtime."

Mrs. Joslin is the outgoing president of the Bel-Marin Keys Women's Club. She and her husband have six children. She is a former president of the West Marin Parent-Teacher Assn., and teaches Primary Sunday School in the Latter Day Saints Church in Novato, and is work director of their Relief Society. In addition, Mrs. Joslin finds time for home arts, boating, bridge, sewing and gourmet cooking.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Morning-Night' Person Is Only A Habit–Learn To How To 'Give'

DEAR HELEN:

I'm not human before 10 a.m. and gradually improve until late evening when I have to go to sleep, against my will. My husband, on the other hand, wakes up bright as a button at 6 a.m., but folds up right after dinner.

What do you do when a morning person is married to a night person?

STRANGERS WHEN WE MEET

DEAR SWWM:

Could he come home for lunch?

Actually this "morning-night person" bit is mostly a matter of habit. You can each "give" a little to accommodate the other, if you put your heart and mind to it.

H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have been going with a man for four years. We argue a lot. He slaps me, has thrown things at me and drinks more than he should. He has done a lot of damage to my car because of his violent temper. But he is wonderful at other times, and I can't help loving him. He says he will change completely if I marry him. What are the chances?

C.D.

P.S. My family can't stand him.

DEAR C:

If he can't change for the better before marriage, you'd better believe he'll change for the worse after the honeymoon wears off.

H.

P. S. Your family is probably right.

DEAR HELEN:

My neighbor who is around 25, moved out of her apartment and in with this wealthy fellow. The problem is that her father, who is an alcoholic, doesn't know. Should I tell him? He might try to make money off it, or he might try to talk sense into her.

MRS. H.

DEAR MRS. H:

If your neighbor wants her father to know, she'll tell him. Stay out of it!

H.

DEAR HELEN:

When my wife answers the telephone, butter wouldn't melt in her mouth. When she hangs up the receiver, she yells, "You old so and so" (meaning me), "empty the garbage." Etc., etc. This has gone on for 40 years.

She says she doesn't nag or yak. Maybe not, but she sure bosses. Any help?

ANOTHER JIGGS

DEAR JIGGS:

Sorry, I can't change a mouse into a man. Besides, after 40 years of bossing, you'd probably fall apart without it. The Jiggs' of this world marry their Maggies because they need them, and if you don't think so, try spending a week away from yours.

H.

DEAR HELEN:

A relative of mine has a two-year-old son to whom they have given a nickname and we feel that this is not a proper or even a cute name, but the mother evidently does. Think what it will do to him at school!

A RELATIVE

DEAR RELATIVE:

Nicknames at age two somehow disappear before kindergarten. Stop worrying and consider our smallest daughter who answered to "Buckthorne" until she was three. Honest, it didn't hurt her a bit.

H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've carried this clipping in my purse for years. Perhaps your readers will get a lift from it, too:

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived—this is to have succeeded!

MARIN FILM FARE

'Dirty Dozen' And 'Barefoot In Park'

By LES DARD

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Top-flight stars, fast and realistic action and hard-hitting masculine humor are just part of the fine entertainment in "The Dirty Dozen," now showing.

Set in World War II, the tale has hardened maverick major Lee Marvin setting out to whip 12 convicted criminals into a homogeneous fighting unit. The men have been offered clemency if they will complete a suicidal secret mission.

Under Marvin's rough but understanding leadership they develop a powerful esprit de corps that serves them well.

Co-starring are Frank Cassavetes, Charles Bronson, Jim Brown, Clint Walker, Telly Savalas, Ernest Borgnine, Robert Ryan and Trini Lopez.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Barefoot In the Park," starring Jane Fonda and Robert Redford, is playing.

It's rollicking comedy about the first few weeks in the marriage of New Yorkers Redford and Fonda. They move into a hilariously inconvenient fifth floor apartment in Greenwhich Village, where differences in temperament create problems almost immediately.

Miss Fonda likes to consider herself a madcap, bubbling over with joie de vivre, but her groom is a sober aspiring attorney who just hasn't time or taste for her pranks.

RAFAEL THEATER

A gripping trip back to Chicago's gangland era is the fare here with "The St. Valentine's Day Massacre," now on screen.

The show is said to be the result of 38 years of research by writer Howard Browne into the characters and events of the infamous Chicago slaying of 1929.

In lead roles are Jason Robards as the violently emotionaly, ritualistic and arrogant Al Capone, and Ralph Meeker as the ever-cool Bugs Moran.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Two For the Road" is now playing, a chronicle of the ups and downs in a high-class marriage.

Audrey Hepburn and Albert Finney star as a couple who meet hitchhiking across France, fall in love and marry. But with his success as an architect also comes marital discord.

In many ways this is a funny film, with snappy dialogue and flashy performances, but it's also very sad in a quiet, poignant way. The ending, however, is both happy and hopeful.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Last year's Best Foreign Film is now showing here.

It's "A Man and A Woman" and it's superb cinema. A simple tale of love between Jean-Louis Trintignant and Anouk Aimee is wonderfully embellished by artful photography, stunning performances and haunting music.

101 DRIVE-IN

An often shocking tale centered around outlaw motorcycle gangs is the fare with "Born Losers," now on screen.

LARK THEATER

Sandy Denis stars as a naive young teacher faced with the harsh realities of a slum high school in "Up the Down Staircase."

There's tragedy coupled with humor, bright moments and much pathos, and the film emerges as a much better effort then you might think.

FAIRFAX THEATER

An epic tale as big as the Russia it so vividly portrays is still with us: "Doctor Zhivago."

Omar Sharif stars as the enigmatic poet-doctor of the title. Julie Christie stars as Lara, and Geraldine Chaplin is his accepting wife, Tanya.

NORTHGATE THEATER

Also a very big tale is "Hawaii," holding over again.

COURTSEY CALL — Missionary Abner Hale (Max Von Sydow) pays a courtsey call on Queen Malama (Jocelyn LaGarde, center) in a scene from "Hawaii," currently playing at the Northgate Theater in an extended run. The film also stars Julie Andrews.

NOVAOT THEATER

Julie Andrews also stars in "The Sound of Music" — in fact she just about IS the film in all its wonderful enchantment. Everything about this film points it out as one for all ages and tastes to enjoy.

Art-Music Fair At Marin City Slated Sept. 3

The first Marin City Art and Music Fair will be held at 3 p.m. Sept. 10 at St. Andrews Church, Drake Avenue and Donahue Street.

Rev. James Symons, fair coordinator, said it will feature an outdoor art show of original works by Bay Area artists and the third concert of the Marin City Summer Music Festival.

Performers in the concert will include organist Raymond Frazier, tenor Martin Talty, singer and dancer Margo Jones, classical guitarist Ed Gutekunst, soprano Alma Wells and pianist Jane Featherston.

While admission will be free, volunteer donations will go to the church's cultural development program to encourage Marin City artists.

Marinite New Army Surgeon At Presidio

Col. Herbert D. Edger of 30 Reed Ranch Road, Tiburon, has been named Sixth U. S. Army Surgeon at the Presidio in San Francisco.

In his new position Colonel Edger will direct Sixth Army medical activities in eight western states.

Colonel Edger, 56, has commanded military hospitals in Italy, Korea, France, Germany and the U. S. During World War II, he was executive officer of the 103rd Evacuation Hospital, serving in the Normandy, Ardennes, Rhineland and Central European campaigns, including the Battle of the Bulge.

A native of Berkeley, Colonel Edger received his pre-med degree from Stanford University in 1933 and his M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1937. He received a master's degree in hospital administration from Baylor University in 1956.

The colonel's father was also a colonel in the Medical Corps of the Army, and his brother, Colonel Robert H. Edger, is an ordnance officer at the Army's Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala.

The Presidio's Colonel Edger is married and has two children, Nancy, 18, and Keith, 15.

Felony Assault Innocent Plea

Innocent pleas to three counts involving a gun-pulling incident with a sheriff's deputy were entered in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by John Thomas Norton, 25, of Muir Beach.

Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled preliminary hearing for 10:30 a.m. Sept. 8.

Norton, ruled sane and able to cooperate with his counsel by an Aug. 20 Marin Superior Court jury, is accused of felony assault with a gun on Deputy Ronald Spurrell in Tamalpais Valley June 23, with possession of the sawed-off rifle, and marijuana possession.

80 Entries Expected At Cat Fancier Show

The Marin County Cat Fanciers expect more than 80 entries when their fourth annual pet competition is held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center.

Proceeds from tickets, available at the door, will go to the county humane society.

GRIM REMINDER FOR SAFETY

Report Ready In Arson Case Involving Boy

Disposition May Mean Committment Or A Reprimand

The case of a 16-year-old San Rafael boy — said to have confessed setting $82,000 worth of fires in Marin — may be disposed of with anything from a reprimand to committal to an institution, it was reported today.

James B. Soetaert, director of probation services, said his department had received a report on the case from Sheriff's Inspector Harvey Teague, juvenile bureau chief.

Soetaert said his office will tents of the report, but said his office will interview the boy and his parents next week.

PETITION SET

Soetaert said his office will file a petition (equivalent of a complaint in criminal court) in the Marin Juvenile Court after the intervew, but added that he could not yet say how the probation department will ask the court to dispose of the case.

The boy has the right Soetaert explained, to ask for a hearing to determine his innocence or guilt of the offenses charged against him. According to Teague, the boy confessed when he was arrested last week that he set several costly fires in the county.

If he waives the hearing on his innocence, the boy will then receive a hearing for judgment.

ADMITTED BLAZES

Among the fires which Teague said the boy confessed were a $55,000 blaze that destroyed a four-classroom wing of Temple Rodef Sholom School Feb. 18; a $10,000 fire Feb. 19 at the Catholic Social Service building on Los Ranchitos Road; a $2,200 fire at Merrydale Apartments in San Rafael Meadows March 28; a $15,000 fire that obliterated the office of Faith Lutheran Church in San Rafael April 15; and eight grass fires.

According to Soetaert, the disposition of the case might be reprimand and dismissal; informal probation for the boy; making him a ward of the court; or committal of him to an institution or a foster home.

If he were made a ward of the court various options are available to the court, such as required work projects, etc.

OPENS TOMORROW

Sausalito Arts Festival Gears For Holiday Crowd

To the sound of folk singing and rock bands, 127 Marin artists will open the Sausalito Arts Festival tomorrow for a three-day run in a banner-bedecked outdoor setting.

Paintings, weaving, graphics, mobiles, sculpture, pottery, stained glass, wood carving and leather work will be shown at the city parking lot-turned fair grounds in downtown Sausalito, opposite the Tides bookstore.

MANY EVENTS

There will be an exhibit of work by architects of the county, a graphic showing of the work of Marin and Bay Area writers., poetry readings, wandering minstrels and a food stand which will sell such oddments as corn on the cob, cheese, sausage and pastries.

The festival will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day and, for the first time will include showing of experimental films.

The first of three separate showings will begin at 6:30 p.m. each evening at Runway 5, a folk song bistro which will become a theater for the nights. It is located in the city's industrial area near Gate 5, at 2222 Bridgeway. Tickets are available at the Tides and at the festival entrances.

Film makers whose work will be shown are Larry Jordan of San Anselmo, Robert Nelson, Ben Van Meter, Bruce Baillie and Bruce Conner, all of San Francisco.

Artists in the festival will be competing for $2,000 in prizes, the funds coming from profits of last year's festival admission charge and from Sausalito merchant donations.

Chilean artists will exhibit works under the People-to People program the city maintains with Vina del Mar, Chile.

Last year's festival drew slightly more than 15,000 persons during its three days and crammed Sausalito streets with cars which, at one point, cause traffic to back up onto the Golden Gate Bridge.

This year, William W. Kirsch of San Rafael and Michael E. Bry of Sausalito, co-chairmen for the sponsoring Sausalito Arts Association, Inc., hope that they have the problem solved.

ONE ENTRANCE

California highway patrolmen will close the southern entrance to the city off Highway 101 when cars are jammed back to the highway and will reroute visitors to the Marin City exit. The arts association will provide parking at nearby Richardson Bay School. A shuttle bus will be run from the parking area to downtown Sausalito and return during the entire day.

Another display at this year's festival will be enlarged quotations, comments and answers to interview questions made by Marin and Bay Area writers including James Broughton, Elsa Gidlow, S. I. Hayakawa, all of Mill Valley; Mary O'Donnell and S. P. R. Charter of Olema; Kenneth Lamott of Belvedere; Wright Morris of Corte Madera; Alvah Bessia of San Rafael; Alan Watts and Sterling Hayden of Sausalito.

Lew Welch of Marin City and Casey Sonabend of Corte Madera will read poetry.

'MUSIC CART'

A "music cart," small moveable platform, will be pulled to different locations on the festival grounds to bring music to various areas, in addition to regular stage performances by the San Francisco Mime Troup; Nathaniel Johnson of Marin City, trustee of the Sausalito School Board, playing the guitar and singing; puppet shows by Mrs. Ale Ekstrom of Sausalito; and more than 20 rock and jazz groups and folk singing acts.

Less Costly Park Plan Is Proposed

The Novato Park and Recreation Commission last night greeted with enthusiasm a less costly alternative to a $2.2 million purchase and development plan for the Canyon Lake Park which the Novato City Council eliminated Monday from the Jan. 23 bond issue.

The plan, submitted by landscape architect John C. Sue, calls for a 20-acre park off McClay Road and adjacent to Canyon Lake, at a total cost of $600,000.

Sue said, the McClay Road site would include two or three baseball fields, tennis courts, game courts, restrooms, a group picnic area, parking and landscaping.

The commission will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the community house to consider a final bond issue proposal for submission to the city council Sept. 4.

The commission eliminated from the bond proposal acquisition of a $95,000 site off East Olive Avenue and agreed that the community swimming pool to be built at the San Marin High School site should be on city property adjacent to the school, rather than on school property.

State Fails In Deadline On Park Land

The state today failed to meet today's deadline for purchase of 320 acres of military land for Marin Headlands State Park.

The federal government agreed in June to extend the deadline to today because state and federal officials were negotiating either to buy the land or to exchange it for state park land for a Redwood National Park.

Failure to meet the deadline, said Frank D. Nichol, deputy director of the Parks and Recreation Department, "definitely will not jeopardize the park." The deadline only means the federal government will start charging the state 5.25 per cent interest on the purchase price, he said.

Deadline on the state's option to buy the surplus land of forts Baker, Barry and Chonkhite "is way off in the future someplace, and is not a matter of gravity at this point," Nichol said. This deadline is "about two years off," he said.

"Also, we have reason to believe that the interest would be suspended," he said.

"The deal is going through," Nichol declared, "and is being discussed" by state and federal officials. "One way or another," he said, "we're going to get it."

The surplus land has been appraised at about $1.5 million. The state would have to pay only 50 per cent of its assessed value.

Chance Of Sprinkles Forecast For Marin

The warm, clear weather of the past few days will give way to cloudy skies tomorrow. There is even the chance of sprinkles, the Weather Bureau reports.

Verbal Fire With School Tax Rates

By WAT TAKESHITA

County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and school officials from Novato and Lagunitas gave county officials a tongue lashing this morning as the Marin County Board of Supervisors finally set school tax rates for 1967-68 fiscal year.

Most of the criticism was leveled at county officials for referring to new state aid to schools as a windfall and at the supervisors for sending a resolution to schools, urging them to reduce tax rates if at all possible.

He said Webster's describes windfall as unexpected legacy. "You may think I am a windbag, but we had been expecting this (the state aid)," said Schneeflock. He said that in anticipation of increased state aid, the Novato district budget did not provide for various items like increased salaries for teachers. The increased aid from the state would make it possible to bring the "impoverished" district in line with the statewide average.

"Gentlemen, we have been operating on a pretty thin budget," said Schneeflock. He assured the supervisors the Novato district would use every opportunity to reduce taxes but not at the expense of the education of children.

Marshall McCunniff, superintendent of the Lagunitas School District, said his trustees decided to reduce taxes by 20 cents only because of publicity announcing that Lagunitas was among those which could reduce taxes. "We took a calculated risk and hope we can arrive in the black at the end of the year."

Superintendent Hollis asked the supervisors to call him in for consultation before passing resolutions affecting schools in the future.

The school officials insisted that the schcool finance bill, AB-272 was not meant for property tax reduction.

This brought Melvin Rupp, executive director of the Marin Property Owners Association to his feet. "Other sources of information do not agree with you," he told the school officials. Rupp quoted various publications issued in Sacramento to back his claim that one of the purposes of AB-272 was property tax reduction.

After more than an hour of debate the supervisors approved the tax rates for the 26 school districts. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported that four school districts had agreed to lower tax rates by taking advantage of the increased state aid as follows: Dixie by 13 cents, Kentfield 15.5 cents, Lagunitas 20 cents and Ross 10 cents.

The new tax rates for school districts as compared with last year's rates (in parentheses) are as follows: Bolinas-Stinson, 2.195 (1.910); Dixie, 3.820 (3.95); Fairfax, 3.935 (2.705); Kentfield, 3.33 (3.80); Laguna Joint, 1.575 (1.73); Lagunitas, 3.375 (3.29); Larkspur, 3.40 (3.58); Lincoln, 1.945 (2.315); Mill Valley, 3.15 (3.17); Nicasio, 2.155 (1.575); Point Reyes, .88 (.545); Reed Union, 3.375 (3.32); Ross, 3.105 (3.055);

San Anselmo, 3.415 (3.275); San Rafael, 3.075 (3.18); Sausalito, 3.255 (2.985); Tomales Bay Union, 1.425 (1.675); Union Joint, 1.53 (1.395); West Marin Union, 1.850 (2.945); Novato Unified, 4.885 (5.355);

High Schools: San Rafael, 2.14 (2.20); Tamalpais Union, 2.22 (2.23); Tomales Joint, 1.32 (1.36); Laguna Joint, 2.28 (2.31); Lincoln-Union, 2.27 (2.29); Marin Junior College .78 (.77).

Remapping Ruling Hits Elections

No congressional elections can be held in California until the state reapportions congressional districts or proves that reapportionment should be delayed, the state Supreme Court ordered yesterday.

The alternative writ of mandate was directed to Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, who is responsible for elections.

The court order resulted from a reapportionment suit filed two weeks ago by Abe Vickter of Los Angeles. Further delay of reapportionment would disenfranchise many voters in next year's congressional elections, he charged. An identical suit was filed by Phil Silver of Beverly Hills.

The court Monday issued a writ directing the state to reply to the suits by Sept. 22. Then the matter will be scheduled for oral argument before the court.

Creek Work Bids Opened

A. J. Bresnan Co. of San Rafael submitted a low bid of $12,412 for erosion control work on San Jose Creek in Ignacio.

Bids were opened today at the Civic Center. Mogens Ring, flood control engineer in the department of public works, said the work involves putting in a rock dam on San Jose Creek to slow water flow and prevent the banks from falling in. The creek is located between Loma Verde and Raphael Village.

The bids came in considerably lower than the engineer's estimate of $16,000. Two other bidders were J. A. Boehner Inc. of Berkeley, $12,600, and Technical Enterprises Inc. of Richmond, $15,914.

The bids will go to the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon.

Police Identify Money Taker

A man suspected by San Rafael police of taking $4,000 Tuesday from a Texaco Service Station at 601 Fourth Street, has been positively identified as David Tutt, 24, Inspector Gerald Souza said today.

Souza said the district attorney's office is issuing a warrant for the arrest of Tutt, who is reported to have paid cash for an automobile in the East Bay yesterday.

Tutt, who has used several aliases, had been employed at the service station under the name of Ronald Dunn of the Wilkins Hotel, 135 Fourth Street, Souza said.

She's Turning Down Chance To Be Sheriff

By ALAN JONES

Marinite Margaret Kibbee has a chance this November to become one of Mississippi's youngest sheriffs, and perhaps its first lady sheriff — but she is turning down the opportunity in favor of returning to school at College of Marin.

Miss Kibbee, a daughter of Mrs. Carleton Williams of 312 Montford Avenue, Mill Valley, has been deep in civil rights work in Sunflower County, Miss., for more than two years, in everything from voter registration to shingling a roof — but never running for office.

FROM VACATION

Never until a few weeks ago, when she returned from a New Orleans vacation to find her friends in the Freedom Democratic Party has taken a note from Governor Wallace's book and circulated a petition nominating her for sheriff of Sunflower as an independent.

The petitioners had more than the 500 voters' signatures needed and she became a bona fide candidate.

The campaign was in response to the move by the present sheriff, a man named Hollowell. Legally unable to succeed himself, Hollowell named his wife as a candidate in the Democratic primary last Tuesday.

The other primary candidate was deputy sheriff John Sideny Parker, who, Mrs. Williams said, was "considered an infamous character" by the Negroes of Sunflower County.

CAN'T COMPLAIN

No one can complain she hasn't done enough in Mississippi already. She went there in summer of 1965 to spend two months in civil rights work. Arriving in Sunflower, she was "assigned" to the Freedom Democratic Party and has been working there ever since, with time out for one semester at College of Marin.

Her main activity has been registering Negro voters, but she is proudest of starting a sewing co-operative in which a dozen Negro women make "patchwork pullovers" which are sold throughout the country. The co-op was started in response to the increasing difficulty of Negroes in finding work. Cotton growing, the main source of jobs, is becoming more mechanized and jobs scarcer.

CLOTH SCRAPS

Contributors, Mrs. Williams said, can send cloth scraps — wool or heavy cotton in pieces large enough for a six-and-a-half-inch square — to Box 398, Sunflower, Miss.

Execution Date Set For Prisoner

Oct. 10 has been set as the execution date for Dorman Fred Talbert, San Quentin Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

Civic Groups Postpone Meetings

All public bodies scheduled to meet Labor Day has postponed or canceled their meetings, and most stores and all banks and post offices will be closed.

Changes in meetings of public bodies include:

Belvedere City Council, Sept. 12, Whitaker Hall, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Corte Madera Town Council, 7:30p.m. Tuesday, town hall; Mill Valley City Council, 8 p.m. Tuesday, city hall; Novato Unified School District Board, 8 p.m. Tuesday, administration building.

San Anselmo Planning Commission, canceled, next meeting Sept. 18; San Rafael City Council, 8 p.m. Tuesday, city hall; tamalpais Union High School District Board, probably Sept. 11; Tiburon Planning Commission, 8 p.m. Tuesday, city hall.

New Ceiling On Design Review Plans Is Urged

Fairfax residents may be able to remodel their homes up to a cost of $1,000 before required to bring plans before the Fairfax Planning Commission for design review.

The commission last night recommended that the Fairfax City Council raise the design review ceiling from $500, but also recommended that the council raise the variance permit fee from $3 to $30.

The commission learned from a survey of other such fees in Marin that its was the lowest, and declared to bring the Fairfax fee more in line with the others.

Two members of the commission, Hugh O. Wynn and E. Ross Parkerson, were named to the undergrounding utilities committee.

The commission will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. Sept. 14 in the Fairfax Women's Club on the County Land Use Plan.

Bettini Elected Bar President

Bettini, native of Marin, graduated from Stanford University in 1947, attended Hastings College of Law at University of California, and passed the bar examination in 1950.

He is a partner in the law firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini in San Rafael.

The following new officers will serve with Bettini: John L. Rockwell of Fairfax, vice president; Warren R. Perry of San Anselmo, secretary; and Fred C. Robbins Jr. of San Rafael, treasurer.

GLENWOOD FOREST
Perhaps we are a bit premature, but we have had so many inquiries from people expressing an interest in this beautiful quiet and secluded area, that we have opened a temporary office, and are now taking reservations on the limited number of breathtaking view sites and secluded sites which are encompassed by trees. The new model homes are not built, and the streets are not paved, but the sites are ready. Wear your old clothes because it is dusty. We are sure that when you see this exciting setting, which we feel is outstanding and cannot be duplicated, you will be pleasantly surprised.

Our salesmen will be on the site all day Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 2, 3 and 4. During the following week by appointment. The phone at the site is 454-3768 or call 479-9611 for further information.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, at the office of the County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of said Board of Supervisors in the Civic Center, City of San Rafael, in said County, California, on Tuesday the 19th day of September, 1967, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. for the purchase of bonds of MILL VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MARIN COUNTY, State of California, more particularly described below:

ISSUE: $200,000.00 1967 School Bonds, Series A, consisting of 40 bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each, numbered A-1 to A-40, inclusive, all dated October 1, 1967. Said bonds are part of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $3,500,000.00. The remaining $3,300,000.00 principal amount of said authorized issue may be sold when and as determined by said Board of Supervisors, but it is anticipated will not be offered for sale prior to December 15, 1967.

INTEREST RATE: Maximum five per cent (5%) per annum, payable annually for the first year on October 1, 1968, and semi-annually thereafter on April 1 and October 1 in each year. Bidders must specify the rate of interest which the bonds hereby offer for sale shall bear. Bidders will be permitted to bid different rates of interest and to split rates irrespective of the maturity of said bonds. The interest rate stated in the bid must be in a multiple of one-eighth or one-twentieth of one per cent per annum, payable as aforesaid. Each bond must bear interest from its date to its fixed maturity date at the rate specified in the bid.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

Principal Amount	1967 Series A Bond Numbers	Maturity Dates Oct. 1
$135,000.00	1-27	1968
30,000.00	28-33	1969
25,000.00	34-38	1970
10,000.00	39-40	1971

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States at the San Francisco Main Office of Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association, in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or at the option of the holder at the respective offices of the paying agents of said County in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said school district. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said district on June 13, 1967 and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said school district and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said school district, subject to taxation by said school district (except certain personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may, at his option, prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds, and, in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Herrington, Rowley & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the district would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided, that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY AND PAYMENT: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale. Payment of the purchase price must be made in funds immediately available to the County Treasurer in San Rafael, California.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of MILL VALLEY School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashiers' check for $5,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by any bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

DATED: August 8, 1967.

A UNIQUE NICHE

Nursery School Spending Just Peanuts To District

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The troubles of the San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School in finding a permanent home to replace the "temporary" one it has occupied since 1951 are again before the San Rafael Board of Education.

The co-op nursery school now wants to put up a building of its own somewhere on the San Rafael High School campus.

This co-op nursery, and its counterpart at Terra Linda High School, together cost the San Rafael High School District only a little over $4,000 a year. This is not even peanuts in the district's budget. As much has been spent on a lighted scoreboard for a football field.

THE POSITION

Their history goes back to 1948. On Aug. 10 of that year, E. B. Gearhart, then principal of the adult school, asked the board of education to appropriate $1,000 to start a nursery school and accompanying evening class for parents.

On Jan. 25, 1949, on motion of Thomas P. Boyd, the board voted to establish such a class "similar to the one at Tamalpais High School," and to charge a fee to parents to meet the cost.

At the next meeting, Feb. 8, 1949, Mrs. Harriet S. Perry was appointed instructor of both nursery school and the evening class for parents. Her pay was set at $115 per month for the former and $3 per hour for the latter.

PORTABLE HOME

Board minutes fail to reflect where the nursery school was held originally. But on Jan. 9, 1951, it was granted use of a wartime portable building on the high school campus which had been used for shop classes. It has been in it ever since. A proposal to move the building to another part of the campus was scotched three years ago when architect Carl F. Gromme told the board it was not worth the cost.

The San Rafael Co-opeeative Nursery School then offered the district $5,000 from its treasury toward a new building. But as this would not go far, and using high school district funds to put up a nursery school appeared of questionable legality, the offer was turned down.

Wait a minute! Where did the San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School get $5,000, and wasn't the whole thing part of the high school's adult school?

Although initially a teacher was hired by the district to teach both the nursery class and the adult class, this arrangement was changed some time later. The district since then has hired someone to teach the adult evening class. The adults enrolled in that class, formed into a corporation called the San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School, either staff the nursery class themselves or hire someone to do it.

STATE FUNDS

Enrollemnt records of the adult evening class are transmitted to the school district, and the district receives reimbursement of 25 cents per hour of attendance from the state.

Those enrolled in the adult class pay a fee to the district. But parents of the children in the nursery school (presumably the same people) pay a fee to San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School to have their children there.

Fee paid to the district is $6 per quarter (unchanged, incidentally, since the class was established in 1949). But the parents pay San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School $13 per month for each child they place in the school.

Enrollment in both adult class and nursery school is controlled, not by the school district, but by the San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School. Its officers submit the names and fees of adult class enrollees to the school district.

RENTS SPACE

Terra Linda Co-operative Nursery School, set up after Terra Linda High School opened, operates the same except that it does not use a school building for the children. It rents a room at the Terra Linda Recreation Center. Because of this, it charges higher fees — $15 per child per month compared to $13 by the San Rafael Co-op.

In fine, then, the adult evening class is part of the high school district's adult school; but the day nursery is a private operation. The high school district does not even get attendance reports on it.

The San Rafael City Chamber, under which the schools operate, provides: "The school department of the City of San Rafael . . . shall consist of elementary and secondary schools . . . and may, at the discretion of the board of education, include technical, industrial, kindergarten and night schools."

It says nothing about nursery schools. But of course, the nursery school is not operated by the school department; it is operated by the San Rafael Co-operative Nursery School, Inc.

The California Education Code contains only one reference to such nursery schools. Section 16654 provides: "A public authority may permit the use of a recreation center or facility by parent co-operative nursery groups on a nonexclusive and nondiscriminatory basis when such use does not unreasonably impair or interfere with the right of the public to use the center or facility."

It says nothing about such use of school buildings, or about putting up nursery school buildings on school property.

Doctors Patch Hole In Heart Of Teener

PALO ALTO (AP) — Doctors who patched a hole between two chambers in a frail Mexican girl's heart say today that she is in satisfactory condition but still under intensive care at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital.

Josefina Quesada, 19, collapsed while picking lettuce near Greenfield in Monterey County and then hitchhiked to Watsonville where she was taken in by Mrs. Jan Horstkora, an employment officer for the Santa Cruz County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Mrs. Horstkora learned the girl had suffered a massive heart attack when she was 11 and living at her home in Guadalajara, Mexico. She spent four years in a hospital there and then came to the United States.

Funds still are being collected for the operation which is estimated to cost $10,000. San Quentin Prison convicts donated 16 pints of blood needed for the surgery which was conducted Wednesday.

Three teams of four physicians worked during the four-hour operation and said she has an excellent chance of leading a normal life when she recovers. The girl says she wants to be a nurse.

Sitting In Street

A "Jane Doe," described only as a woman in her 20s, was committed to Napa State Hospital this morning by Sausalito police after a patrolman found her at 9:40 a.m. sitting in the middle of Platt Avenue near Currey Avenue.

Monterey Paper Changes Hands

MONTEREY (AP) — President Allen Griffin announced yesterday that the common stock of his Monterey Peninsula Herald had been sold to the Toledo Blade Co. in Ohio. Terms were not made public.

Griffin, who founded the newspaper in 1922, said management policies would remain unchanged and that he would continue in his present post.

He and two daughters have held a great majority of the stock.

Paul Block Jr. is president of the Blade company which publishes the Blade in the afternoon and the Times in the morning. The Blade has a circulation of 181,514, while the Times sells 31,551 copies.

Non-Paying Passenger Is Arrested

A San Francisco cab driver made a citizen's arrest yesterday when his fare informed him he had no funds after the cab arrived at Main Street, Tiburon.

Luther Glen Underwood, who works for the Yellow Cab Co., San Francisco, told Tiburon sheriff's deputies at 7:30 p.m., that he had picked up Jacques Knorr, 19, of Berkeley, at a restaurant on Van Ness Avenue. A friend, Knorr had said, was waiting at San Francisco Yacht Club with money for him. The friend failed to materialize.

Deputy John O. Goff reported that Knorr's total assets on his person consisted of a nickel in his pocket. The cab fare amounted to $10.65.

Goff said Knorr was wearing a beard and mustache and long hair, was "very dirty" and most of his conversation was "not understandable."

125 Rights Marchers Arrested In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Police engulfed a line of 400 civil rights marchers last night backing a 30-day ban on street demonstrations. At least 125 persons were arrested, including a white Roman Catholic priest, Rev. James Groppi.

Two persons were injured.

There were indications that another march might be staged tonight.

"They can never get all of us," said one Negro nearly in tears after police scattered the marchers.

"Let's fill up the whole jail," said another.

It was the second straight night in which police cracked down on an attempted demonstration by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Fifty-eight persons were arrested Wednesday night.

A police car was burned and its windshield smashed soon after the dispersal of last night's march. Also among those arrested was Mrs. Vel Phillips, Milwaukee's only Negro member of the Milwaukee Common Council.

Virtually all those arrested were charged with violating Mayor Henry Maier's edict against street demonstrations. The ban was imposed Wednesday in an emergency proclamation prompted by open housing marches by the youth council into the predominantly Polish South Side.

Father Groppi was also charged with resisting arrest and battery. He was released in $1,000 bond.

The priest said another march might be attempted tonight after a rally at St. Boniface Church where he is assistant pastor.

TV Technicians Minus Contract

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Union technicians and engineers worked without contracts today at NBC and ABC radio and telegotiators pored over a 140-page offer from the networks.

A spokesman for the National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians, AFL-CIO, said NABET officials hoped to finish studying the offer early this afternoon.

Legal Knots Still Snarl New District

There are still a few knots to be unraveled in the slightly snarled Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District situtation.

The district, Asst. County Counsel Thomas Hendricks said recently, will not become the Tamalpais Valley Community Services District until next July 1.

Voters approved forming the expanded district last April. The present five directors were the only candidates for the new board and were appointed to it by the county supervisors.

The difficulty is that terms of two sanitary district board members, Gale E. Bishel and Harry Sutcliffe, expire at the end of 1967.

Hendricks said yesterday that the two will at least have to go through the motions of running for re-electionin November if the board is to stay at full strength.

That means they must first file a notice calling the election of two directors.

If, as seems likely, Bishel and Sutcliffe are the only candidates by the end of the filing period in mid-September, the board must file a notice that not enough petitions were received to hold a contested election. If anyone else files, of course, the election would be held.

If Bishel and Sutcliff are unopposed, however, notice would be given that no election would be held, and the supervisors would appoint the two to serve as sanitary district directors until July 1.

Battery Suspect Held In Jail

A 26-year-old San Rafael man was arrested on suspicion of battery and being under the influence of narcotics early today, after he was reported beating his wife in front of his home, police said.

Officer Charles Brobeck, responding to an anonymous report, arrested Isaac A. Sanchez of 118 Bayview Road after he was observed by the officer striking Sharon J. Sanchez, 24, in the chest.

Sanchez, who has a reported history of narcotics violations, was examined at the county jail and found to be under their influence.

He was being held today in lieu of $552 bail.

Stay Clear Of Senate, Lobbyists Are Warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has privately passed the word to President Johnson to order lobbyists for government agencies to "keep their distance" from the Senate.

Mansfield is understood to have acted after intense lobbying efforts by officials of the Pentagon and the Agency for International Development were blamed for losing—rather than gaining—votes in a critical battle over foreign aid.

Mansfield said in an interview he asked Mike Manatos, the chief White House liaison man with the Senate, to advise the President that Mansfield "didn't want people from the agencies to lobby here...in other words, to keep their distance."

The problem of such lobbying was, he suggested, confusion and irritation—particularly fhen an agency's officials are following the same route already covered by Mansfield or White House staffers.

"Sometimes," observed Mansfield, "they see senators I have seen or have been seen by my people, and senators don't want to be seen and seen again."

Mansfield did not specify what incident caused his request to Johnson. Other Senate sources say it was principally due to the activities of people from AID, the Pentagon and the State Department in trying to drum up senatorial support last month.

Another, who has witnessed foreign aid battles from both the congressional and administration sides, observed with a practiced eye: "At first they weren't lobbying at all. Then they were overlobbying. They were everywhere. They were crawling out of the woodwork."

Engineer Denies Ditch Work Figure

Michael King, principal engineer for the county public works department, disclaimed today that he recommended to Bel Aire property owners thay they sandbag a quarter-mile drainage ditch at a cost of $15,000.

Chairman Mrs. Phoebe Brown said yesterday the recommendation was made at the meeting Wednesday of the Bel Aire Porperty Owners Association, worried about possible flooding this winter behind Blackfield Drive, Tiburon, because of the new Reedlands

King said the only figures he Woods Unit Two development. used were when he told residents if a culvert were extended along Blackfield Drive from the development to the bay, it would cost $100,000. If a protected open channel (sandbagged) were used, it would cost $40,000.

He said some property owners asked if they could put in sandbags and he told them they cold, if they did it in accordance with county specifications.

King said his recommendations to the homeowners was that they meet with members of Flood Control Advisory Board No. 4 and seek their recommendations.

He estimated extra storm drainage from the development would be 10 per cent or less. The development is scheduled to be completed in about a year, he said.

Murder Suspects Await Jury Report

SUSANVILLE (AP) — Two Redding brothers accused of three slayings near Susanville will be booked into jail in Lassen County soon while a grand jury considers indictments, Sheriff Ben Yeakey said today.

Yeakey said William Tidwell Jr., 21 and his brother, Robert, 18, will be brought from the Shasta County Jail in Redding. The brothers were arrested for investigation of burglary and Shasta sheriff's deputies said they found evidence linking them to the Susanville murders.

A ranch couple, Mr. and Mrs. Levoy DeForest, was found dead in their home Aug. 4. The body of Keith E. Utterback, 44, a Hoopa logger, was found in the DeForest's car Aug. 7.

Cerrudo Trails By Four Strokes In National Golf

COMBINED AP & UPI

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael started today's second round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament at Broadmoor Country Club in Colorado Springs far enough behind to worry, but not far enough away to panic.

Cerrudo, one of the top favorites, shot a 75 yesterday, five over par and four strokes behind a familiar face.

The familiar one is first-round leader Bob Dickson of McAlester, Okla., the man who defeated Cerrudo in the finals of the British Amateur last spring.

Dickson battled fog and mud yesterday to come in with a 71. Three strokes off the pace were Marty Fleckman, Walker Cupper from Port Arthur, Tex., and Mike Nesbit of Kensington, Md., a member of the University of Maryland golf team.

MARIN TRIO

Then came Cerrudo. Further down were Novato's Ray Leach with a 79 and Don Hawken of San Rafael with an 81. Leach got in all 18 holes yesterday, but Hawken was forced to stop during the first round because of rain. He completed his first round this morning.

Bristling, descriptive phrases about the mountain-rimmed 6,946 yard par 35-35—70 course cascaded from the lips of players like former champion Bob Murphy — a 77 shooter — and Bill Harvey, the 36-year-old Dixie Amateur champion.

But then every player coming off the misty, fog-shrouded course into the locker room first yanked off his soaked shoes and wrenched the water from his socks.

FRUSTRATIONS

That seemed to release some of the frustrations accumulated during three interruptions in play caused by drifting clouds of fog that blanked out the greens and fairways at various times during a trying day.

Dickson didn't have to wring out his socks, though. First, he wasn't frustrated. And second he had encased his feet in plastic before putting on his golf shoes. That was a trick he learned playing with the victorious U.S. Walker Cup team in England this year.

Harvey's graphic opinions reflected his sentiments after posting a 78 to replace his 71 score which led Wednesday's opening round until it was washed out.

But perhaps the best summation came from Jim Grant, 25, another Walker Cupper who shot an unbelievable 41-49—90.

RIDICULOUS

"This is ridiculous," the Wethersfield, Conn., swinger said. "I can't believe it. I haven't shot this bad since I was 10."

Better things were promised today for the second round. The Weather Bureau forecast clearing skies and a high of around 70 degrees, up about 25 degrees from yesterday.

The field will be cut after today's round to the low 50 and ties. They'll play 36-holes Saturday for the title being defended by Gary Cowan of Canada, who stroked two under par for the eight holes he played before darkness engulfed the tortured course and players yesterday.

JIM GILMARTIN

There'll Be Strangers In Paradise Sunday

JIFFY BIFFY—Take my hand, I'm a stranger in paradise . . .

You may hear several persons humming that popular tune at the Oakland Coliseum Sunday when the Raiders and invading San Francisco 49ers engage in their long-awaited football contest.

The poor man's Tony Bennetts will be 49er fans, many of whom will be making their very first visit to the East Bay's beautiful one-year-old athletic complex.

CAPTIVES OF the San Francisco dungeon called Kezar Stadium all these years, 49er filberts will discover a Shangri-la beyond the Nimitz Freeway which, incidentally, is an admirable approach to fun and games.

Oh, there will be some growls about Oakland's city ordinance banning booze in the stadium. In fact, I know some 49er fans who will be shocked to discover the players aren't really fuzzy after all and that there are only 11 players on a side, instead of the 22 they have seen through bleary eyes at "wide-open" Kezar.

Other Reasons To Cheer

Although they'll cry in their soft drinks about the lack of grog, 49er fans will have other reasons to cheer. For one, they will be amazed at the generous parking accommodations adjacent to the stadium. At Kezar they've had to walk miles to the stadium, many of them tippy-toeing through fallen Hippies in Golden Gate Park. In Oakland you can drive your Maxwells and Edsels practically up to the turnstiles.

BUT THE REAL Shangri-la of Oakland Coliseum lies in the bowels of the huge concrete structure. They are marked "Men" and "Women" and Kezar veterans may find them so exciting that they may remain enthroned throughout the entire contest. All this and heaven too.

You see, Coliseum biffies are modern, clean and plentiful. The traffic therein moves fluently and there is little waiting or elbowing.

To Kezar veterans it will be like moving from the Black Hole of Calcutta to the Pearly Gates.

Scenes Of Near Riots

Kezar's antiquated anny-cays have been scenes of near riots because of their (1) scarcity and (2) smallness. In fact, I am told the Kezar women's powder rooms inspired that famous commercial: "How'd they get those eight great tomatoes in that itty-bitty can?"

THE MEN'S ROOM, before the opening kickoff and at halftime, are like a scrimmage at San Quentin. I've been trapped in there many times and I've known several smaller persons to disappear for an entire quarter of a game.

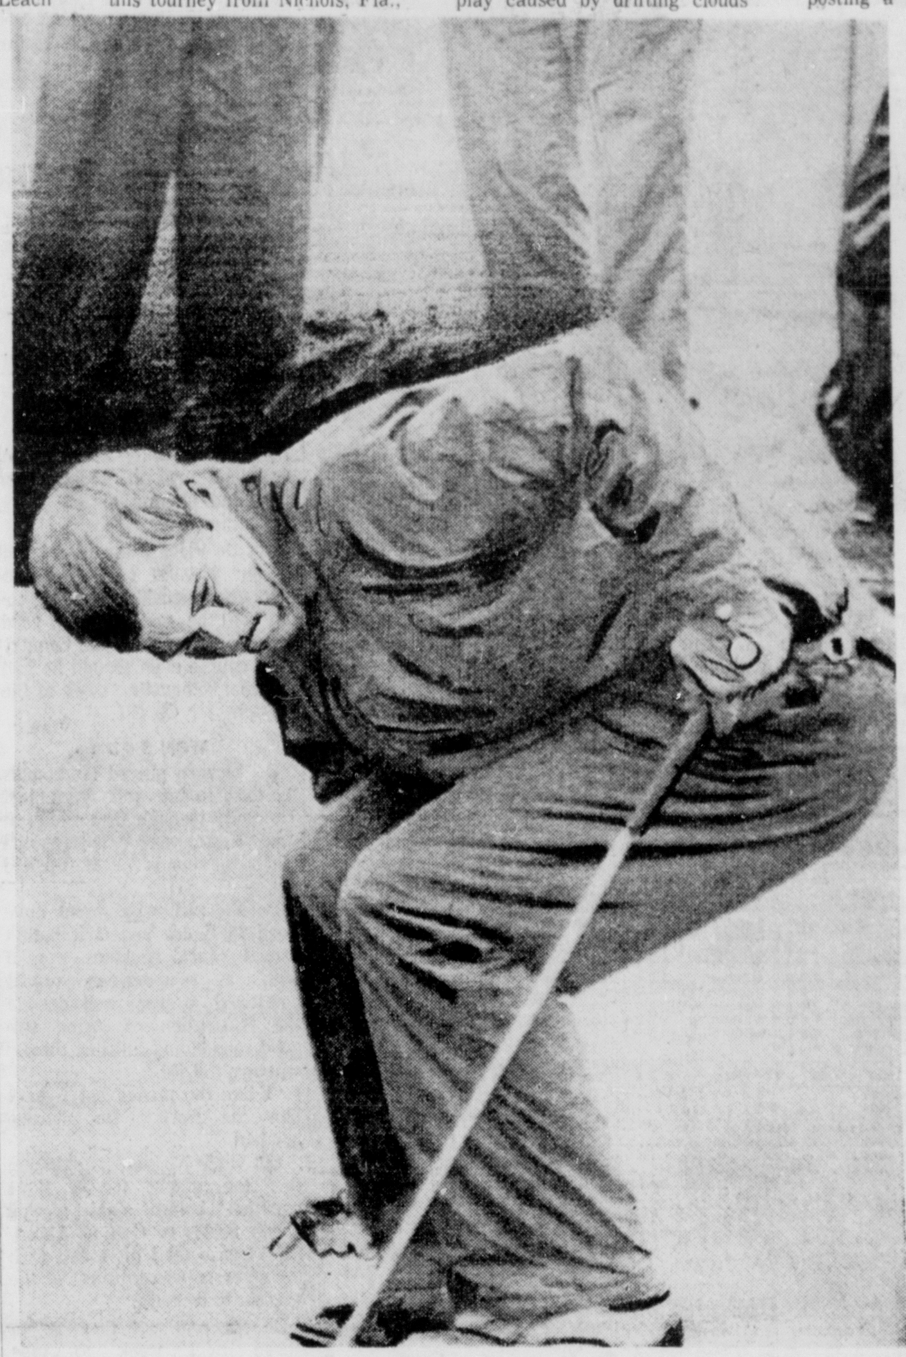
A friend of mine visited the little boys' room one Sunday several years ago when the 49ers were leading Detroit 28-3. When he finally got back to his seat it was 31-28, Lions. He didn't know whether to blame the 49er defense or the stadium's sanitary engineers.

Talk About Wrong Number

Kezar's corridors are so congested most of the time that I am ashamed to admit that one Sunday I stood in line for 10 minutes until I discovered that it led to a phone booth. Boy, did I get the wrong number.

ANYWAY, YOU 49ER fans, take full advantage of Oakland's modern facilities Sunday for in a few weeks it will be back to Kezar's dungeons and the old, familiar battle cry, "Every man for himself."

And if I notice you with a particularly wide grin on your face in the Coliseum's corridors Sunday, I'll know that you, Bunkie, are one of those strangers in paradise . . .



RON'S BIRDIE—San Rafael's Ron Cerrudo calls on some fancy body English to persuade a 10-foot putt into the cup for a birdie on fifth hole in National Amateur tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo., yesterday. Cerrudo's 75 for the day left him only four strokes off the pace. (UPI Telephoto)

McCormick Must Wait For No. 19

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Pitcher Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds obviously isn't a bit superstitious, so southpaw ace Mike McCormick will have to take another shot at his 19th win of the year.

Maloney went after a jittery 13th last night and displayed no jitters at all as he outdueled McCormick, 3-1. He allowed just four hits and fanned seven, including six in a row.

McCormick's effort was hardly one to complain about. He gave up just five hits and struck out six Reds in seven innings, but still got tagged for his seventh defeat.

Cincinnati and San Francisco went into the seventh inning all tied up, after the Reds scored on Lee May's 10th homer in the second frame and the Giants matched it in the fourth on a pair of singles and a double play.

Then Johnny Bench, a 19-year-old rookie catcher, clinched it for Cincinnati with a two-run double—his second hit in the major leagues.

The defeat dropped the Giants into fifth place, three games behind the Reds in a torrid battle for second place in the National League. Chicago and Philadelphia also hold slim leads over the Giants, and Atlanta can't be counted out yet.

San Francisco and Cincinnati resume their series tonight at 5 o'clock PDT, with Ron Herbel (2-4) of the Giants scheduled to oppose Mel Queen (12-6).

Whitey Ford To Be A Coach

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whitey Ford, the veteran New York Yankee southpaw forced to retire as a player earlier this season because of a recurring shoulder injury, will continue to wear a Yankee uniform as the club's first base coach.

General Manager Lee MacPhail announced yesterday that Ford, a 17-year veteran wih the Yanks, will take over the duties handled by Loren Babe nex season.

Strike Won't Stop 49er-Raider Game

The Oakland Raiders said yesterday their shceduled football game against the San Francisco 49ers will be played Sunday in the Oakland Coliseum, strike or no strike.

The 1:30 p.m. game is a 53,000-seat sellout.

The labor dispute is between Allied Maintenance Corp. and two Building Service unions and one Teamsters local and involves security guards, ushers, ticket takers, nurses, food and soft drink dispensers, parking lot attendants and other operating personnel.

Coliseum, Allied and union officials met again yesterday under a threat of a quick strike if no new contract is agreed upon before the current pact expires today.

The unions ask a 40-cent an hour pay hike; were offered 5 to 12 cents.

"We hope there'll be no strike," said Scotty Stirling, general manager of the Raiders. "But there appears to be danger that there will be.

"Our contract with the Coliseum Corp. provides that all services will be provided. We have been assured that the Coliseum is prepared to provide them."

"We can not cancel the game with 53,000 people expecting us to play."

It will be the first meeting between the cross-bay rivals, the Raiders of the eight-year old American Football League, and the 49ers of the National Football League, organized in 1922 from the American Professional Football Association.

One Orlando Bam Enough; He Didn't Need Other Two

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's a good thing for the rest of the National League that St. Louis' Orlando Cepeda isn't feeling very chipper.

Cepeda scored two runs and drove in two more, running his major league leading RBI total to 104. He is batting .344, six points less than Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, who tagged three hits in the Pirates' 6-4 victory over Philadelphia.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere in the National League yesterday, Cincinnati stopped San Francisco 3-1, Atlanta edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Chicago nipped New York 2-1 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Minnesota outlasted Baltimore 10-9, Washington blanked New York 6-0 and Chicago topped Boston 4-2.

Ray Washburn won his ninth game for the Cardinals with late-inning help from Ron Willis. Jimmy Wynn accounted for Houston's only run with his 32nd homer.

Cepeda's homer came in the third inning against loser Bo Belinsky, 3-9. The big slugger hit his sacrifice fly in the two-run wrapup eighth.

Matty Alou punched an infield single that scored Al Luplow with the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning as the Pirates whipped the Phillies.

Hank Aaron touched off a three-run Atlanta rally in the eighth inning with his 33rd homer and Rico Carty climaxed the spurt with a two-run pinch double as the Braves beat Los Angeles.

Aaron's homer was his 475th career shot and tied him for ninth place on the all-time major league list with Stan Musial.

After the homer, Clete Boyer reached first on an error and Mack Jones walked before Carty doubled. It marked the first time in two seasons that the Braves defeated Claude Osteen.

Al Spangler's 11th inning pinch single drove in Chicago's winning run against the Mets. Ernie Banks had opened the inning with a single and reached second when Randy Hundley was hit by a pitch.

With a count of one ball and two strikes on Ted Savage, Spangler was sent up to swing and delivered the winning hit.

Willsey Opposes College End-Of-Year Playoffs

BERKELEY (AP)—"Playing Notre Dame is like looking down a gun barrel," California's football coach, Ray Willsey, said as he opened practice yesterday.

"The reason to play Notre Dame is to prove something to yourself — not to the fans, though we need the fans to pay the bill. We must find our capabilities.

South Bend, Ind. will be the proving ground on Sept. 23 when Willsey's Golden Bears meet Notre Dame there. That's only one game after they open the season here against Oregon in a Pacific-8 Conference test.

In reply to a question, Willsey said he opposes a suggestion for a college playoff bowl at the end of the season.

"It would take away the idea of the bowl games," he said. "It wouldn't be right to have the Rose Bowl take a back seat.

"In the South, where they seem to like the idea," Willsey said, "they don't have anything else to do after their 10 - game season ends. We don't want 14 or 15 games. We need to get back to our studies.

"California is not easy to get into, scholastically, and it's difficult to stay in. Our athletes are something special because they meet the same standards as other students, who have 25 hours more each week to study.

"We have 75 potential Phi Beta Kappas," Willsey said of his football candidates, "but unfortunately they don't have time to reach their potential."

Entires, including $18 fee, should be sent to the San Rafael Recreation Department, City Hall.

MARIN TARS CHECK IN FOR FOOTBALL DRILLS

This was the scene yesterday morning as College of Marin football coach Dick Read greeted 37 candidates for the Tars' first team meeting of the season. Read expects more than 25 more prospects by the time school opens next Tuesday. After yesterday's initial chalk talk, the Tars opened field practice today. Said Read: "We appear to be strong in some spots but weak in others; we'll know more next week when our squad is at full strength. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Australians Have Pat Hand In U.S. Net Championships

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Wimbledon champ John Newcombe opens his drive today to give Australia its 10th U.S. lawn tennis singles championship in the last 12 years.

The 24-year-old sensation from down under, who dropped only two sets en route to his Wimbledon crown, was down for a first round match against Mike Estep of Dallas, a youngster just out of the juniors but good enough to help tie Aussie adjust his strokes to the Forest Hills grass.

Newcombe, with second-seeded Roy Emerson, third-seeded Tony Roche, unseeded Bill Bowrey, Owen Davidson and Ray Ruffels, give Australia a pa hand in the 86th U.S. title chase and no one else was conceded much chance.

The top U.S. hope—Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio—won his opener handily from Sherwood Stewart of Baytown, Tex., 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, yesterday and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., showed he has retained the grass form that gave him the recent eastern crown at Orange, N.J., by polishing off lefty Keith Carpenter of Canada, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Graebner, the highest seeded Yank with the seventh spot on the list, was the only American to reach the quarter-finals a year ago.

However, Graebner lost to Riessen in the eastern final and he lost to South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in the Pennsylvania Grass Courts final.

Drysdale, runner-up here two years ago and coming back strong after a winter hernia operation, showed his fifth-seeded talents in a 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 breeze against Marine Lt. Ed Newman while fourth-seeded lefty Nicola Pilic of Yugoslavia downed Lamar Roemer of Houston, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

In top men's matches on the second day of the championships, Roche was matched against toughie Gene Scott of New York, a former Davis Cupper and a fine turf player, and sixth-seeded Roger Taylor of Britain drew Armistead Neely of Tampa, Fla.

De Vicenzo Goes After Carling Prize

De Vicenzo, the easy-going British Open champion from Argentina, usually accuses the American pros of working too hard and playing in too many tournaments.

But De Vicenzo is still entered in the $200,000 Carling World golf championship starting today on the par 17, 7,027-yard Toronto Board of Trade Country Club course even though he had a rather exhausting week at the Westchester Classic.

WON $18,500

De Vicenzo played six rounds of tournament golf from last Thursday through Wednesday at the Westchester Classic—and had two rounds of 67 washed out.

De Vicenzo, who would have been 18 under par if it hadn't rained (Jack Nicklaus won it with a 16-under-par mark) continued to play well despite the frustration of losing two good rounds and finished third—winning $18,500.

"I like the money but I don't like the work," De Vicenzo grinned.

But while Nicklaus is skipping this tournament for a short vacation before next week's World Series of Golf at Akron, De Vicenzo teed off today with 151 other golfers in quest of the $35,000 first prize.

De Vicenzo will then go to Akron next week to face Nicklaus, Gay Brewer and Don January in the World Series of Golf.

Cagers Triumph

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The University of Houston basketball team won its third straight game of a local tournament by defeating the local Atenas team 95-56 last night. The touring Texans led 52-25 at halftime.

Boating's Cause For Concern: 1,318 Fatal Accidents In '66

STEVENS

Did you know there were 1,318 fatal boating accidents in 1966? That's quite a number of deaths of persons favoring boating as their form of outdoor recreation. As Admiral Willard J. Smith, Coast Guard commandant said recently: "The very thought of 40 million of our people in recreational boats this year is cause for concern." I certainly agree with the Admiral. Somehow it seems such a waste of lives.

The question is — Do you agree with the Admiral? If so, have you all the safety requirements decreed for a boat operator or as a passenger on a boat?

It has been recommended that the Federal Boating Act of 1968 be amended to require regisiration or numbering of ALL undocumented motor boats rather than just those of over 10 horsepower.

Also recommended is that the Motorboat Act of 1940 be amended to require lifesaving devices on ALL WATERCRAFT. Should be so!

Should these amendments be enacted, there will be a federal agent issuing citations by the dozens. Don't you be one of the cited. There was such a survey made many years ago and hundreds of citations were issued for public and private owners. Could happen again, you know.

MOST FISHING activity the first of the week was centered in the outside waters, where salmon, rockfish and striped bass have cooperated with the angler. Most of the salmon caught still are silvers or small kings; a few sizable kings have been landed and indications are that some good runs of the big boys are just a few days or tides away.

Regarding striper striving outside the Golden Gate: Mile Rock continues to yield beaucoup pisces. The big party boat, Paul G, has loaded up each time out from its berthing place at the Sport Fishing Center on Cutting Boulevard in Richmond. (The Paul G is a twice-a-day live bait party boat.) That the Mile Rock fish are incomers is proved by the red fins and tails of those caught. The big majority of stripers being taken by the Paul G and other craft are nice ones to over 20 pounds. A few boats have fished both Mile Rock and the Seal Rock area successfully with an assortment of stripers, halibut and rockfish.

CATFISH DOMINATE the back country waterways, but very few bass or sturgeon have been reported.

Three Gals Win In Golf Tourney

Mrs. Felix Mola took low net honors with a 71; Mrs. J. A. Gibbs had the fewest putts with 28, and Mrs. William Sichel was the low gross queen with an 85-13-72.

That was the story at the Marin County Club women's Tray Day Golf Tournament yesterday.

The results:

"Class A — Mesdames Thomas Major, 88-14-74; G. T. Overing, 93-19-74; P. M. Stevens, 92-17-75.

Winter Keg Leagues Open Next Week

All three Marin County bowling centers are getting ready for the start of winter league action which gets under way lightly next week and heavily the following week.

Country Club Bowl in San Rafael and Greenbrae Lanes have been closed a few days this week for complete resurfacing of the lanes. Nave Lanes near Ignacio had been resurfaced earlier. The San Rafael lanes reopened yesterday and Greenbrae was to reopen today.

At Nave Lanes, Jim House's 807 four-game series and Bill Hoffman's 258 game were the highlights for the men, while the gals were led by Bea Nickel's 563 series and Ellie Simpson's 223 game, all those scores coming from the very late stages of the summer league.

Representatives of the three Marin bowling houses have met to plan three traveling leagues this season. There'll be a scratch league for men, a scratch league for women, and a mixed handicap league, each league traveling weekly to each house — Greenbrae Lanes, Nave Lanes and Country Club Bowl.

There has been no trouble filling the two scratch leagues, but there are still many open spots in the mixed league. The bowling managers hope to fill these spots when a league meeting is held next Tuesday at Nave Lanes, 8 p.m. They ask all interested to attend.

Chub Got Cheated: Call Racket Squad

Any kid in the country who collects bubblegum cards could have told the Giants' Chub Feeney he was making a mistake. You don't get one Cepeda for one Sadecki. You have to throw in at least a complete infield and leave the gum on it.

When Chub sprang the deal on a visiting newsman, he asked, "What would you do if the Cardinals offered Sadecki for Cepeda?" The writer answered, "Call the police."

Chub might have done better if he advertised in the better journals of commerce "For Sale or Trade: One National League Pennant With or Without World Championship Attached. Does Not Eat Much, Salary Negligible. All Unreasonable Offers Considered."

ORDINARILY, a baseball trade is a simple exchange of two disappointments in the hopes a change of environment will inspire one or both of them to mediocrity, but Chub Feeney was putting on the market a prize bull who had knocked in 767 runs, had poled 226 home runs and had a lifetime average of .308. One year, he hit for 335 total bases and he out-hit, out-homered and out-runs-batted-in his more storied teammate, Willie Mays. He had stolen as many as 23 bases in a season.

You might think from the foregoing that Chub Feeney had caught Orlando Manuel Cepeda poisoning the San Francisco water supply, or selling Mare Island navy yard pictures to the Communists, or pulling the wings off birds as a hobby, but Orlando's worst fault was playing left field. He didn't even have dandruff or snore.

YOU HAD to wonder what Chub would have gotten for Rogers Hornsby. Waivers?

Orlando Manuel Cepeda is one of the strongest men ever to play the game of baseball. He swings a bat which, if it had leaves on it, you would take for a well-grown tree. He has been known to hit broken-bat home runs.

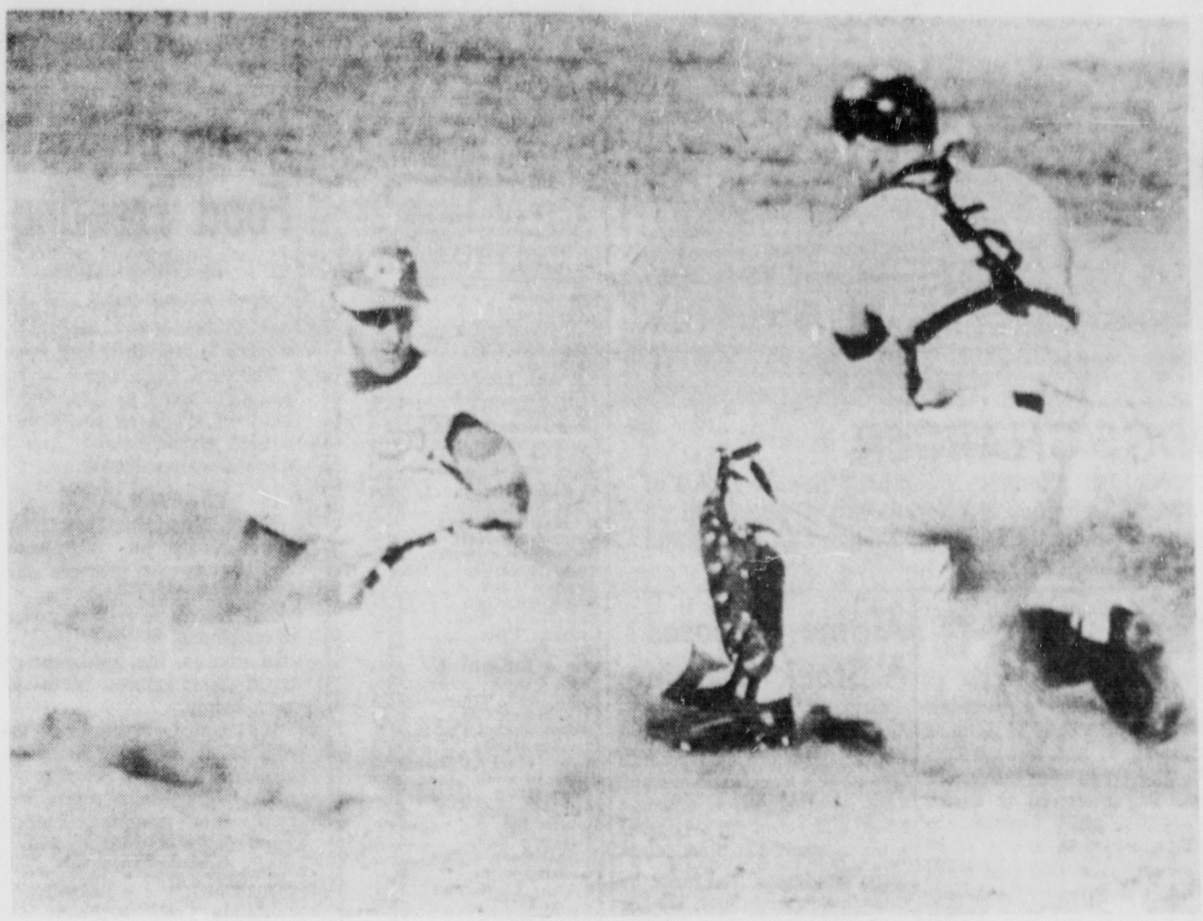
HIS FATHER was to Caribbean baseball what Babe Ruth was to the American game. "Perucho" Cepeda was a man so powerful he had been known to hit baseballs so hard they couldn't even find the ravelings and so stubborn he stole back his clothes and left the hospital when he had only three days to live. He died of cirrhosis of the liver but his son says it was not from alcohol, which he did not drink, but from polluted water at the dockyards where he worked — and there may be a lesson in there some place.

ORLANDO CEPEDA has sometimes seemed to have less a career than a long-term tantrum. He was tackled by Willie Mays once as he seemed to be maneuvering himself into homicide position over Danny Murtaugh and, as one writer said, when Mays and Elio Chacon tangled in New York once, Orlando fought on the undercard against Roger Craig. He threw a baseball into a crowd of jeerers in Puerto Rico one winter, proving, as one umpire noted, that he had a temper in two languages.

Cepeda is the best hitter in baseball at the moment, certifiable by averages, hits, runs-batted-in. His 50 walks indicate he will no longer try to hit anything that does not hit him first.

HIS CAREER has been aggravated by a slightly bowed and turned-in right leg — not so much because of what it does to him as what it does to his managers. Stories have been released ascribing his semi-limp to everything from post-polio to a fall from a tree but "Peruchin" (as his adoring followers in San Juan call him) insists it's nothing more than a residue from a cartilage operation at the age of 14. Not even when he stole 71 bases in his first four seasons in the big league would the stories die. Another cartilage operation in 1965 gave the Giants a chance to say "See," and gave them a chance to put Willie McCovey on first base and Orlando Cepeda in the World Series.

IF HE doesn't win the MVP Award this year, the winner should blindfold it the minute he gets it. And Chub Feeney should get in touch with the Better Business Bureau, Racket Squad and the bunco detail the next time St. Louis comes offering left-handed pitchers for all-time sluggers.



PLAY THAT IGNITED A RHUBARB

This seventh inning play last night in Cincinnati brought a heated protest from San Francisco catcher Tom Haller and Manager Herman Franks who maintained Tommy Helms of Reds did not gain the plate ahead of Haller's tag. Helms scored from first on a double by rookie catcher Johnny Bench and the Reds went on to win, 3-1. Judge for yourself: Was he safe or out?

Track Takes Over University Games

TOKYO (AP) — Track and field took over the spotlight in the sixth day of the World University Games today with five gold medals up for grabs at the National Stadium.

Edey Ottoz of Italy captured the first one of the day, winning the men's 110-meter hurdles in 13.9 seconds over Don Copeland of Los Angeles. Ottoz surged forward with a burst of speed before the final two hurdles to edge the UCLA student, who was timed in 14.0 for the silver medal.

Ottoz, who won the same event in the 1965 Budapest World Games, trailed Copeland most of the race. He passed him on the next-to-last hurdle.

Bodo Tummler of Germany set a World Games record of 3:43.3 in the men's 1,500 meters finals, winning his country's fourth gold medal in the track and field competition.

Runner-up Dave Bailey of Canada and third-place Gianni Del Buano of Italy also broke the old mark of 3:45.7, set by T. Salinger of Czechoslovakia in 1961. Bailey was timed in 3:43.5 and Del Buano in 3:44.0.

The United States beat South Korea 92-63 for its fifth straight men's basketball victory. It was Korea's first defeat against four wins. The Americans led 42-29 at halftime.

Spain, Great Britain, Japan and The Netherlands collected gold medals in tennis.

Spain won the men's doubles finals as Juan Gisbert-Ortiga and Jose Maria Gisbert defeated Japan's Takeshi Koura and Isao Watanabe 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4. In the all-Japan's men's singles final, Watanabe beat Jun Kamiwazumi 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

Frances Truman of Britain won the gold medal in the women's singles with a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 victory over Ada Bakker of The Netherlands. Miss Bakker teamed with Astrid Suurbeek, also of The Netherlands, to win the women's doubles over Alessandra Gobbo and Monica Giorgi of Italy 6-3, 6-2.

The mixed doubles gold medal was won yesterday by the Australian pair of Geoffrey Polland and Kay Dening over the Italian tandem of Miss Giorgi and Giordano Maioli.

Colts Continue Their Jinx Over Washington Redskins

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There they were, the Washington Redskins, with everything going for them—a perfect record, winners of three preseason games for the first time in 17 years, and on their home field, D.C. Stadium, with 47,008 spectators looking on.

Then it happened—the head-on collision with that seemingly ridiculous preseason jinx that Baltimore holds over the Redskins. Final score: Colts 23, Washington 17.

That made it nine years in a row that Baltimore had vanquished the Redskins in their annual National Football League exhibition game, and in the 15-year series, the count is Colts 13, Redskins 2.

Two games are on tap tonight. The Kansas City Chiefs, AFL titleholders, are at Los Angeles of the NFL while St. Louis is at Chicago in an NFL-only tilt.

FIELD GOALS

Three field goals by Lou Michaels in the second half provided the margin of victory for Baltimore, now 3-1.

While Washington managed only a field goal by Charley Gogolak in the opening half, the Colts scored twice, once on a one-yard plunge by Jerry Hill and the second time on a two-yard run by Jim Welch.

At this point, Baltimore still hadn't given up a touchdown during the exhibition season. However, the Skins crossed the goal line in the third period when Sonny Jurgensen hit Bobby Mitchell for a two-yard touchdown pass.

Two key Baltimore players were injured. Bubba Smith sprained a knee in the opening half and sat out the rest of the game. John Mackey pulled a thigh muscle in the second half and also left the game.

A 94-yard runback of the opening kickoff by Allan Smith triggered Buffalo's victory over the Jets. The Bills also capitalized on a pair of New York misplays to offset two touchdown passes by the Jets' Joe Namath and three field goals by Jim Turner.

Paul Maguire of Buffalo ran a kickoff fumble by New York's Sol Brannen 12 yards for a touchdown in the opening period and Hagood Clarke intercepted a pass by Turner in the third period and ran 40 yards for the Bills' final score.

A total of eight other games are scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday, featured by the AFL opener Sunday with the Boston Patriots meeting the Broncos at Denver.

The preseason tilts tomorrow match Dallas of the NFL at Houston of the AFL, New Orleans NFL vs. Miami AFL at Charleston, S.C., and Pittsburgh of the NFL at San Diego, AFL, plus Atlanta vs. Minnesota and Green Bay vs. Cleveland in an NFL doubleheader in Cleveland and Philadelphia vs. New York at Princeton, N.J., in another NFL game.

There's still another interleague match on tap Sunday with San Francisco, NFL, at Oakland of the American League.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

This Is A Good Time To Avoid Speculation

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am in my late 20s with a family. I have ample insurance, savings and invest monthly in a performance fund. I would also like to invest regularly in strong growth issues with high promise. My choices are Itek, Syntex, Sperti Drug and Alpine Geophysical. Do you advise buying these stocks?" T.W.

A. You seem like an intelligent man and I'm going to offer you a piece of gratuitous advice. This is a good time to study values carefully and avoid being carried away by the speculative fever that is a major characteristic of this year's market, particularly in science-related issues.

All of the stocks you name have merit and I believe that all have good future prospects. With the exception of Syntex where earnings have been off, your choices have moved up very sharply this year and Sperti and Alpine—traded over-the-counter — have trebled in price in that volatile market within a few months.

I don't know how far or how high a multiple these stocks will reach before a seemingly inevitable reaction sets in. Pending such a time, I would limit present purchases on your list to Itek.

As a second choice I suggest Bristol-Myers, which has also moved up strongly but has a growth outlook more assured and predictable, I believe, than the majority of your other selections.

Q. "I own Tenneco 5.36 convertible preferred. How does the convertible feature operate and should it be sold now?" E.C.

A. Your stock is exchangeable for 3.39 shares of common from Jan. 1, 1968, through Dec. 31, 1972, and thereafter for less. The preferred is quoted 97½ - 99½ which represents a satisfactory yield and a small premium over the conversion value. I like Tenneco's outlook and I believe you have a good holding that should be retained.

New Advances Being Made In Food Freezing

By PHIL THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) —People used to depend on a card in the window to keep their food fresh.

The card was a signal for the passing iceman to stop, tote a block of ice in on his leather-padded shoulder, and drop it into the wooden icebox.

FREEZER ROLE

But there's a relatively new development in food freezing that makes the refrigerator's frigid temperatures seem almost balmy.

The average temperature in a refrigerator freezing compartment ranges between 0 and minus 5 degrees Fahrenheit, cold enough to freeze a juicy leg of lamb into a rock hard club. But the temperatures of cryogenics range from minus 100 to minus 452 degrees Fahrenheit—so cold that gases become liquids, some metals gain superstrength and a fresh orange can be smashed into powder.

NEW USES

In the past few years, cryogenics has coasted out of the research laboratory and currently is getting practical application in such fields as food, metal-making, medicine, aerospace and electricity.

Industry sources say they expect the market for cryogenic machinery and gases to grow from the millions into a multi-billion-dollar market between now and 1975.

John P. Adams, president of Borg-Warner Corp's. Byron-Jackson Division, estimates the manufacture of cryogenic pumps alone could amount to $10 million to $15 million. The pumps are used to convert gases, such as nitrogen, into supercold liquids.

"At this point," says Adams, "we are just beginning to capitalize on the opportunities this new technology has opened up."

The manufacture and sale of liquid nitrogen for cryogenic use has grown into a $100-million-a-year business, a spokesman says. Chemetron Corp., Union Carbide Corp., Air Products & Chemicals, Air Reduction Co., and General Dynamics are among the leaders in the field.

ACTIVE ROLE

One spokesman says practically every frozen food manufacturer in the United States has been experimenting with cryogenic freezing. One group is the ice-cream people who are thinking of turning out ready-made sundaes, banana splits and the like and then quick-freezing them in their original shapes.

Liquid nitrogen—it becomes a liquid at minus 320 degrees Fahrenheit—is being used to some degree to keep meat fresh during shipping. After a truck is loaded with meat, liquid nitrogen is sprayed into the cargo space and the meat instantly frozen so that when it arrives at market it has had no loss from shrinkage, according to an industry spokesman.

Nitrogen also is being used in its gaseous form to keep fresh fruits and vegetables fresh, the spokesman says. The gas, metered out from tanks of liquid nitrogen, forms a blanket over the truck load of corn, lettuce and peas "to shield them from oxygen which destroys the freshness."

New Airline Would Fly To State Cities

Application for the operation of a new California airline, Skymark Airlines, Inc., has been filed with the State Public Utilities Commission.

The short take-off and landing, passenger and cargo line would be based at Sacramento's new Metropolitan Airport and connect Fresno, Bakersfield, Monterey, San Jose, San Francisco and Lake Tahoe with economical commuter-type service. Equipment includes three 19-passenger de Havilland Twin Otter 600 turbo-prop jet planes. Operations would begin next February.

Skymark is headed by Alvin Marks, a commercial instrument rated pilot. Among the company's directors are Henry Brocco, Larkspur councilman and owner of the Greenbrae Pharmacy, and Phoebe W. Marks, former owner of the Larkwood Village Shop in Larkspur.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS will inaugurate service between San Francisco and Hilo Oct. 1, subject to government approval. By the end of October it is expected there will be three flights weekly.

Pan Am's preliminary and unaudited statement for July indicates net income after taxes of $13 million or 40 cents a share, compared with $15 million or 48 cents a share for July of last year. Operating revenues were up 6.9 per cent over a year ago, but operating expenses were also higher.

INDUSTRIAL INDEMNITY CO. board chairman Kenneth K. Bechtel has reported assets of $105 million, an increase of 12 per cent over a year ago. Policyholders' surplus of $20.8 million is a record high and reflects a 14 per cent increase during the first half of 1967.

LITTON INDUSTRIES and Landis Tool Co. have announced a preliminary agreement for Landis to join Litton, now subject to negotiations, shareholder approval and tax rulings. Litton is a major producer of precision electronic equipment. Landis manufactures precision machine tools.

STAUFFER CHEMICAL CO., San Francisco, has purchased a 131-acre tract of rich farm and orchard land just south of San Jose. It will be used as an experimental orchard and field crops farm. Eventually the company expects to relocate its Mountain View chemical research activities to the new site. Its research program includes testing chemicals for their effectiveness against plant pests.

CONSOLIDATED LEASING CORP., Chicago, has acquired Global Equipment Co. at Montebello, Los Angeles County, and has broken ground for construction of a $325,000 sales and maintenance center in Oakland.

KIMBERLY-CLARK CORP. executive vice president Guy M. Minard has been elected president of the company. He succeeds John R. Kimberly, who has been named chairman of tht board and who continues as chief executive officer.

Kimberly-Clark stockholders have voted to increase the authorized amount of common and preferred stock from 12.3 million to 18 million shares. Common stock (15 million shares) will have a par value of $5 per share. Preferred stock will be without par value.

KAISER ALUMINUM AND CHEMICAL CORP., Oakland, has completed transactions for acquiring Texada Mines Ltd., a privately held Canadian corporation. With the closing, Kaiser Aluminum acquires an iron ore mine and mining operations in British Columbia and 80 per cent of the shares of Minera Bayovar, S.A., holder of mining concessions for phosphate deposits in Peru.

BECKMAN INSTRUMENTS, INC., Fullerton, has reported a 26-per cent gain in earnings on a 14-per cent increase in sales for the fiscal year ended June 30. Earnings were $6 million or $1.81 a share on sales of $129.8 million. The figures reflect new records for the company.

YUBA INDUSTRIES, INC., San Francisco, has announced a total of $4.5 million in new orders from two new contracts from the Navy Department and California Water Resources Department.
